

COUNCIL LISTS TOWN STREETS FOR SURFACING

Eight sections of town streets were approved for surface treatment this summer by the borough council at its May meeting, Monday evening, after Councilman Joseph D. Kendlehart, chairman of the highway committee, told members it is "out of the question for financial reasons to surface all of the streets in the town that need it."

Only the "must" streets were listed and a $4,300 limit was placed on the cost of materials to be used in that work. Other streets will be kept in order only by patching, it was indicated. No alleys appear on the list of borough thoroughfares to be surfaced this year.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner was directed to go before the county commissioners to seek county aid from the returned state liquid fuel taxes to help meet the street building costs.

Several Months' Work

Council's "must" list follows:

- 1) 500-foot section of Fifth street, approved for surfacing three years ago but never completed because materials were not available.
- 2) Surface coat on newly-constructed sections of West High and Howard streets.
- 3) 1,800-foot section of East Middle street from South Stratton to Fourth streets.
- 4) Entire length (2,000 feet) of Springs avenue.
- 5) Breckenridge street (from Baltimore street to locker plant).
- 6) Third street from East Middle street to the furniture factory (800 feet).
- 7) Eastern end of East Broadway, west of the Harrisburg road.
- 8) South Washington street from West High street to the hospital driveway.

Mr. Winebrenner indicated it may take "several months" to complete the work.

Delay Decision On Tiber

Council discussed the annual borough "cleanup" usually conducted in May and left plans for that work in the hands of the highway committee and Mr. Winebrenner.

With Councilman Vernon Corle, chairman of the sewer committee, not present to present a formal report on the Tiber survey his group made, council postponed until a later meeting any action in that matter. From other members council heard that Tiber walls needed building and that work should be done in the channel between West Middle street and the railroad bridge, north of Race Horse alley.

Councilman Fred A. Hummelbaugh said one "good repair job" should be done on the Tiber each year. Councilmen disagreed whether there is a "bottleneck" at the underpass at the throwing company plant. Mr. Winebrenner told councilmen the throwing company officials have refused a right of way for a by-pass around the building unless the borough will build a bridge across the channel to an east door of their plant.

Juvenile Cases

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer praised the work of the re-organized police department and said the officers are "doing a pretty good job."

One instance he cited in which police have taken prompt action locally was that of checking up on the presence of a number of children ranging in ages from three to seven years on the streets in the central part of town at midnight and in the early hours of the morning.

It was found they were the children of patrons of local taprooms who left the children on the streets while they visited the bars. The case has been referred to the county juvenile court for action, the burgess said.

$400 For Playground

Dr. A. R. Wentz, seminary president, appeared before council with regard to a "misunderstanding" of the wishes of the seminary in connection with an offer by the seminary to give the town the right of way for the projection of Hay street to Buford avenue. Council referred the matter to its highway committee for re-investigation and recommendations.

Council directed Mr. Winebrenner to confer with state highway department engineers on means of remedying drainage conditions in the first block of Chambersburg street from the Blue Parrot to the Hotel Eberhart. New sub-drains and changes in curb and pavement levels are considered as means of improving conditions long complained of by property owners there.

Increasing last year's appropriation by $50, council voted a $400 sum to the Gettysburg Recreation Board for playground uses this summer. It was pointed out the increases would not upset the budget in view of the fact that the now suspended Blue and Gray band will turn back to the council about $100 in its treasury.

Hope To Clear Streets By May 30

The Gettysburg borough council and its engineer, Leroy H. Winebrenner, are going to do everything in their power to have Gettysburg's main street free of barricades, ditches and chuck holes by May 30.

Council on Monday evening placed a ban on all new openings in the main streets until after May 30 — except in cases of extreme emergency.

That action was taken after Mr. Winebrenner told council the state had requested that the street patching work be completed by that time. He added that on Monday he received a gas company application for a permit for a new opening in a section of Baltimore street already patched.

MISS RAMER IS NEW PRESIDENT OF LOCAL NCCW

Miss Mary Ramer was elected president of the local chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women at its regular meeting Monday evening in St. Francis Xavier school social rooms.

Mrs. J. Walter Coleman was elected vice president; Mrs. C. E. Swisher, secretary, and Miss Lindora Roddy, treasurer.

Miss Mary Eberhart, president of the Conewago Deanery of the NCCW, announced that the annual deanery meeting will be held in St. Joseph's hall, Bonneauville, Sunday afternoon, May 21. Miss Ramer, as president, and one delegate will represent the local parish council at the session, it was decided.

A shrine in honor of the Blessed Virgin was erected in the hall at the school and a large exhibit of handicraft of the members of the Caroline Codori Girl Scout troop was on display as part of a court of awards for the troop held in connection with the NCCW meeting.

Awards For Girl Scouts

Miss Rose Marie Smith was reader for the court and the award of first class scout was given to Miss Smith and Miss Catherine Small. Second class awards were given the Misses Mary Louise Cole, Lorraine Small, Barbara Ann Roth, Barbara Ann Little, Barbara Ann Small and Helen McGlaughlin. Tenderfoot awards were made to the Misses Anne Cullison, Dolores Hardman, Jean Smith, Joan Stock, Pearl Rider, Helen Cole, Doris Sanders and Betty McClellan.

After the meeting, tea was served by the scout troop under the supervision of Mrs. Romeo Capozzi and Miss Lindora Roddy, assistant leaders of the troop. Miss Jane Ramer and Miss Anne Louise Stock poured while the Misses Lois Small, Rose Marie Smith and Catherine Small served, assisted by the second class scouts.

Plans were made by the NCCW for a benefit party to be held in the Xavier hall basement May 16. Mrs. George Croft was named chairman with Mrs. Mary Felix, Mrs. Lloyd McGlaughlin, Mrs. Jacob Small, Mrs. Paul Ramer, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Arthur E. Roth, Mrs. Mark Stock, Mrs. Clarence Steinour and Mrs. Norman Robinson as members.

ASK NEW TRIAL IN $1,400 SUIT

A motion for a new trial and for judgment notwithstanding the verdict has been filed at the county prothonotary's office in the action in assumpsit brought by Albert O. Beck and Maria Beck, Chicago, against Freda Lucille Stanley, near West Chester.

A county jury last Thursday afternoon awarded Beck $1,400 after deliberation on the claim that he had given that amount to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley to keep for him, and that they had not returned it. The verdict of the jury read that it found in favor of Albert O. Beck and against Stanley for $600 and against Mr. and Mrs. Stanley for $800.

In the motion filed by the Stanleys' attorneys, Swope, Brown and Swope, Esqs., it is sought to remove the claim against Mrs. Stanley. The petition states that the claim against Freda Lucille Stanley is "against the law, against the evidence and against the weight of the evidence" and asserts that the "learned judge erred in failing to direct a non suit as against Freda Lucille Stanley as there is no evidence whatsoever indicating any agreement on the part of Freda Lucille Stanley to care for any monies of Albert O. Beck."

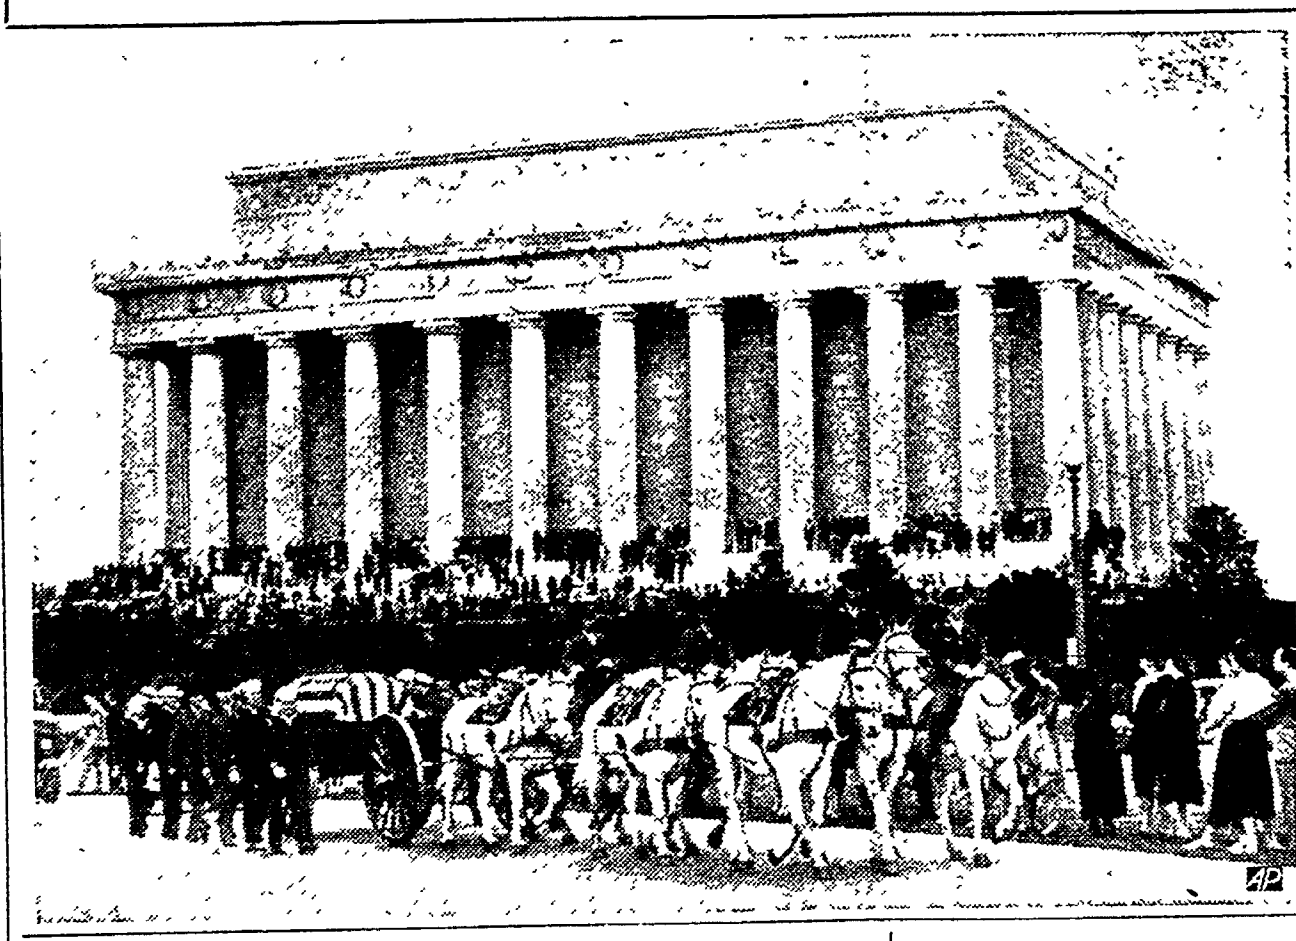

LODGEMEN TO MEET

The York Springs IOOF Lodge, No. 211, will be host to the Adams County Past Grand's association in the York Springs fire hall, Thursday evening.

The whole town's going to see "Lavender and Old Lace." Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium, Wednesday, May 3, 8 P. M.

GROWERS URGE LABOR CAMPS

A committee of members of the county fruit growers' association, meeting with the county farm labor officials Monday evening at the court house, put themselves on record as favoring work camps as the only possible way in which to obtain sufficient help to harvest the county's fruit crops, and agreed to do everything possible to help the county emergency farm labor committee in securing outside help.

The growers were in agreement that the county's available help cannot possibly handle the expected large harvest of fruits and a number of growers expressed willingness immediately to decide upon the number of additional helpers they will need and what periods they will need them for. Others stated they could not be very definite until later in the season on the dates and need for helpers.

The question of what prices will be paid the workers was discussed generally with most feeling that there are too many "intangibles" at the present time to set a wage scale. Most were of the opinion that "we don't want any John L. Lewis method of saying just what will be paid and what won't" but all agreed that a "prevailing wage" allowing variations must be decided upon soon in order to have something definite to offer incoming laborers.

Twenty-five persons attended the session at which County Agent M. T. Hartman presided.

Charge To Be Laid In Truck-Car Crash

Charles B. Wambaugh, Dallas-town R. 1, will be charged before Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Straban township, with passing another vehicle at an intersection as a result of an accident Monday morning on the Lincoln highway, five miles east of here, state police said today.

Wambaugh was the driver of the truck which collided with a milk truck owned by C. M. Wolf, Gettysburg, and driven by J. Walter Phillips, New Oxford R. 3, at 7:30 a. m. Monday. Both vehicles were traveling east when Phillips attempted to turn into the Hunterstown road from the Lincoln highway and Wambaugh attempted to pass the Wolf truck. Total damage was $150. The Wambaugh car overturned after striking the left front of the Wolf truck.

Patrol System Is Explained To Scouters

The patrol system as the basis for an active boy scout troop was explained Monday evening by D. D. Swope, Esq., to a group of Scout leaders of the York-Adams Boy Scout area field executive at the last in a series of Leadership training classes held during the last seven weeks. The session was held at the farm of J. W. Stevenson, Ottumwa R. D.

Scout leaders of the various troops in the Black Walnut district took part in the program which included division of the scouts into patrols and the making of meals by the two patrols formed.

"Every scout must have a job in the patrol if we are to fulfill our purpose of building better citizens and better leaders," Mr. Crisp told the group. "The patrol, made up of eight boys, is a natural organization which allows each man to have a job to do, and gives each scout some opportunity to lead, whether he be patrol leader, assistant, grubmaster, quartermaster, or whatever his title may be."

Yank Private Smashes Nazi Attack And Saves Platoon

By NOLAN NORGARD
Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 23 (Delayed) (AP)—Alone, Pfc. William J. Johnston had smashed a German attack, then single handed had covered one withdrawal of his platoon. But the Germans were coming in again and the medic said he was dying, so he had to be left behind.

"It's OK, fellows," he said when they left him on the ground with a shell fragment wound in his chest and his machine-gun nearby. "The Jerries paid for it and they'll pay more."

Soon after they heard the gun chattering. Ten minutes later it was silent again and the platoon back in a new position figured it was all over for the game fighting man from Colchester, Conn.

Draft Boards Send Men For Physicals

The Gettysburg Selective Service board today sent a contingent of Gettysburg and western Adams county men to Harrisburg for physical examination prior to induction into the armed forces. The board would not state how many men were in the call.

The New Oxford draft board Monday sent its May contingent to Harrisburg for physical examinations.

FLOODS BREAK MORE LEVEES

(By The Associated Press)

Ripping open another major levee, the flooding Mississippi river spread today over 51,000 acres behind the breached dike at Preston, Ill., while its rampant tributary, the Illinois, continued a destructive course below Beardstown.

The Preston break was described by the U. S. Army district engineer's office at St. Louis as "like an explosion—the river tore the levee clear through from the bottom up."

The major break in the current flood, which reached its highest crest in 100 years, the breach at Preston will give some temporary relief from the river's pressure against weakened levees downstream.

Although the river crested at St. Louis Sunday, the slowly receding waters were still threatening levees upstream in the Choteau, Nameoka and Venice districts on the Illinois side.

The Meredosia levee on the Illinois river below Beardstown was listed as critical by the engineers. The Coast Guard cutter Oleander and eight smaller boats were dispatched to the area for evacuation work.

Losses on the Mississippi have been held to a minimum by various agencies applying previous experience, Major Gen. Eugene Reynolds, Washington, chief of the army engineers, reported after a tour of the area.

Contributions to the Adams County Red Cross War Relief fund reached the $28,409.51 mark today with a number of contributions reported including $5 each from Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson and Cpl. John Leier and $3 from Mrs. William Lott.

Postpone Class For Nurses' Aides

The next class of Nurses' Aides, scheduled to start Monday evening, has been postponed until June 15, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the Red Cross committee in charge of the project, announced today.

Seven women reported for service with the Nurses' Aides group but because several of the women have previous commitments and others will not be in Gettysburg for the entire course it was decided to postpone the class until the middle of next month.

COMMITTEES OF LEAGUE BUSY ON PLANS FOR PLAY

The final dress rehearsal for the cast of 10 local thespians who will present the play, "Lavender and Old Lace," Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the college gym, will be held this evening. Dr. Richard A. Arms and Fred G. Pfeffer, a member of the cast, are directing the production.

The cast includes Mrs. Russell A. Campbell, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Mrs. Elmiria Slaybaugh Deardoff, Mrs. Charlotte Waltenyer Smith, Bert Stracker, Mrs. Peggy Zinn Sheely, Mr. Pfeffer, Mrs. Elizabeth McIlhenny Messner, Dr. George R. (Bowley) Miller and Prof. W. D. Harshorne.

Preparations for the production, sponsored by the Woman's League of Gettysburg college, are being handled by these committees of League members.

LOCAL MEN AT ROTARY MEET

Seventeen members of the local Rotary club attended the 28th annual conference of the 180th district of Rotary International Monday at Harrisburg. John J. Shank, Waynesboro, was elected district governor succeeding Albert S. Schmidt, of Harrisburg.

Delegates from 91 clubs in the district attended the session at which Bill Jack of Jack and Heintz, Cleveland manufacturing concern, asserted, "returning fighting men do not want a glorified WPA when they come back from battle" and urged the business men to plan now to provide jobs, according to the Associated Press.

The local members attending included: Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Walter T. Africa, Harry C. L. Miller, P. Ward Stallsmith, M. C. Jones, J. S. Cairns, J. P. Cairns, Dr. Rasmus S. Saby, J. I. Burgoon, H. Wilbur Baker, Vernon B. Corle, Frederic E. Griest, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Charles Eicholtz, Samuel G. Spangler, William Tyson and Albert Fisher. A number of the local members were accompanied by their wives. The session was the largest district convention ever held, it was announced, with 1,273 persons attending.

Amateur Biologists Work On Feline Case

Robert F. "Speed" Walters, East Stevens street, is waiting anxiously for a report from a biology class at Gettysburg high school as to what has caused a retrogression among a family of cats owned by him.

The high school students are going to look over the three kittens still surviving from a litter of four by a cat owned by Mr. Walters. Of the four cats, one has a full length tail, another a stump of a tail and the other two have no tails at all. One of the tailless felines has died, while the other seems in good health. The kittens are about five weeks old.

HOSPITAL REPORT

John Myers, Fairfield R. 2, and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Gettysburg, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Russell Shetter, Gettysburg R. 5; Jane Felix, Breckenridge street; Mrs. Ernest Sillik, Biglerville R. 2, and Mervin Kauffman, Hampton, have been discharged.

But the next morning an outpost saw a soldier struggling for the American lines. He walked a few steps, fell, then crawled, then rested.

Two men brought him in. It was Johnston, weak from his wound and his bare feet bruised and torn. The Germans had believed him dead when they found his prone figure beside his machine-gun and had taken his shoes.

He could barely talk but his first words told of the enemy's location and enabled American gunners to put down heavy fire in Nazi gun positions.

That was only the finale of a remarkable one-man war that has earned a recommendation for citation for Johnston now recovering in an Army hospital.

Pre-Invasion Air Assault In Eighteenth Day

By GLADWIN HILL

London, May 2 (AP)—American Liberators bombed German installations in northern France at midday today, carrying the great pre-invasion air offensive into its 18th consecutive day after 1,000 or more heavy bombers assaulted enemy targets by night in France, Belgium, Italy and Germany.

Up to 750 heavy British and Canadian bombers flew from England through a cloudless night against German aircraft, chemical, auto and explosive factories and against the rail targets on which the enemy must depend to meet invasion, the British air ministry announced. The others rose from Italian bases.

About 500 American planes were estimated authoritatively to have made today's attack, half of them Liberators and half Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters.

Repeated Crossings Of Channel

Formations of Allied medium bombers and fighters crossed and recrossed the channel skies in the early afternoon, after the Liberators had returned from their mission. The Liberators encountered no German fighters and an unusually small amount of flak.

"It was one of the best missions of the 13 I've been on," commented Lt. John Nortridge, Freeport, Ill., a pilot, "when you looked out, you saw fighter cover everywhere. There was no flak anywhere against our group."

A communiqué identified the Liberators' target as the Pas-de-Calais area and said all planes returned.

Thunderbolt fighter-bombers, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters attacked rail yards at Tergnier and Lemans deep in France while the Liberators were striking French soil closest to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's invasion masses.

Lemans Is Important Junction

Lemans is one of the most important junctions in western France, a funnel for traffic between Paris and big western ports such as St. Nazaire and Brest.

The fighter-bombers' sweep raised to 21 the number of railroad objectives attacked in the last 24 hours, nearly as many as were hit all last week.

These operations, probably the most far-flung although not the heaviest conducted by the RAF, came while Allied heavy and medium bombers in the Mediterranean theater shot a four-ply blow at key German-held cities in Italy. They also followed attacks by Britain-based daylight raiders, of which 2,000 were American, which chewed up 17 rail junctions through which supplies and men move to Hitler's Atlantic wall.

Complete 4,000 Sorties

The night attacks capped 17 straight days of uninterrupted large scale raids on the Germans' European fortress from both Britain and Italy.

The operational record from Britain yesterday was around 4,000 sorties (individual plane flights) while Allied planes based in Italy added 1,300 more sorties to the pre-invasion aerial crescendo. Ten planes from the RAF British-based sky fleet failed to return, while two Allied aircraft were reported missing from all daylight and night operations yesterday in the Italian theater. Two enemy planes were destroyed in the Italian theater.

YOYLER, STINE
BUY BUSINESS

The building containing the Dougherty and Hartley store, center square, has been sold to Mrs. Alice J. Dougherty, widow of one of the founders of the concern, it was learned today.

A deed filed with the office of the county Register and Recorder Monday afternoon shows that the executors of the late Howard C. Hartley, Robert C. and Ida Hartley Sperry, have sold their share in the two tracts which make up the store property to Mrs. Dougherty, in accordance with an agreement between the former partners.

Edward N. Stine and John I. Ohler, employees of Dougherty and Hartley, at the same time purchased the business and will continue trading as "Dougherty and Hartley." Mr. Stine, who had been employed by the firm for 25 years and Mr. Ohler, who worked there for 40 years, said today they planned to continue with the same policies as before. They were offered first chance to buy the business under the terms of Mr. Hartley's will.

The Dougherty and Hartley store has been in business as such since 1892.

GUESTS AT THEATRE

Members of the Gettysburg Lions club were guests of Sydney J. Poppy, Majestic theatre manager and member of the club, Monday evening for the showing of the U. S. War Department feature "Memphis Belle" at the local theatre. About 25 members attended the weekly dinner meeting at Mrs. Smith's restaurant. Lt. C. C. Bream, Jr., U. S. Navy, was a guest.

IMPROVED TODAY

Mrs. Charles Lauer, East Middle street, is reported improved today following a heart attack Monday.

YOYLER, STINE BUY BUSINESS

The building containing the Dougherty and Hartley store, center square, has been sold to Mrs. Alice J. Dougherty, widow of one of the founders of the concern, it was learned today.

A deed filed with the office of the county Register and Recorder Monday afternoon shows that the executors of the late Howard C. Hartley, Robert C. and Ida Hartley Sperry, have sold their share in the two tracts which make up the store property to Mrs. Dougherty, in accordance with an agreement between the former partners.

Edward N. Stine and John I. Ohler, employees of Dougherty and Hartley, at the same time purchased the business and will continue trading as "Dougherty and Hartley." Mr. Stine, who had been employed by the firm for 25 years and Mr. Ohler, who worked there for 40 years, said today they planned to continue with the same policies as before. Colonel Lampert Arrives Overseas

Colonel Lester L. Lampert, former professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college, has arrived safely overseas.

Since leaving Gettysburg in 1940 Colonel Lampert served two years in the Hawaiian islands where he commanded the famous 27th "Wolfhounds" Regiment, served at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and commanded a regiment at Fort McClellan, Alabama. He was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs staged their sneak attack, December 7, 1941.

Colonel Lampert is at the same overseas base as Colonel E. G. Arnold another former FMST at the college, who has been overseas since last May.

COUNCIL LISTS TOWN STREETS FOR SURFACING

Eight sections of town streets were approved for surface treatment this summer by the borough council at its May meeting, Monday evening, after Councilman Joseph D. Kendlehart, chairman of the highway committee, told members it is "out of the question for financial reasons to surface all of the streets in the town that need it."

Only the "must" streets were listed and a $4,300 limit was placed on the cost of materials to be used in that work. Other streets will be kept in order only by patching, it was indicated. No alleys appear on the list of borough thoroughfares to be surfaced this year.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner was directed to go before the county commissioners to seek county aid from the returned state liquid fuel taxes to help meet the street building costs.

Several Months' Work

Council's "must" list follows:

- 1) 500-foot section of Fifth street, approved for surfacing three years ago but never completed because materials were not available.
- 2) Surface coat on newly-constructed sections of West High and Howard streets.
- 3) 1,800-foot section of East Middle street from South Stratton to Fourth streets.
- 4) Entire length (2,000 feet) of Springs avenue.
- 5) Breckenridge street (from Baltimore street to locker plant).
- 6) Third street from East Middle street to the furniture factory (800 feet).
- 7) Eastern end of East Broadway, west of the Harrisburg road.
- 8) South Washington street from West High street to the hospital driveway.

Mr. Winebrenner indicated it may take "several months" to complete the work.

Delay Decision On Tiber

Council discussed the annual "cleanup" usually conducted in May and left plans for that work in the hands of the highway committee and Mr. Winebrenner.

With Councilman Vernon Corle, chairman of the sewer committee, not present to present a formal report on the Tiber survey his group made, council postponed until a later meeting any action in that matter. From other members council heard that Tiber walls needed building and that work should be done in the channel between West Middle street and the railroad bridge, north of Race Horse alley.

Councilman Fred A. Hummelbaugh said one "good repair job should be done on the Tiber each year." Councilmen disagreed whether there is a "bottleneck" at the underpass at the throwing company plant. Mr. Winebrenner told councilmen the throwing company officials have refused a right of way for a by-pass around the building unless the borough will build a bridge across the channel to an east door of the plant.

Juvenile Cases

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer praised the work of the re-organized police department and said the officers are "doing a pretty good job."

One instance he cited in which police have taken prompt action locally was that of checking up on the presence of a number of children ranging in ages from three to seven years on the streets in the central part of town at midnight and in the early hours of the morning.

It was found they were the children of patrons of local taverns who left the children on the streets while they visited the bars. The case has been referred to the county juvenile court for action, the burgess said.

$400 For Playground

Dr. A. R. Wentz, seminary president, appeared before council with regard to a "misunderstanding" of the wishes of the seminary in connection with an offer by the seminary to give the town the right of way for the projection of Hay street to Buford avenue. Council referred the matter to its highway committee for re-investigation and recommendations.

Council directed Mr. Winebrenner to confer with state highway department engineers on means of remedying drainage conditions in the first block of Chambersburg street from the Blue Parrot to the Hotel Eberhart. New sub-drains and changes in curb and pavement levels are considered as means of improving conditions long complained of by property owners there.

Increasing last year's appropriation by $50, council voted a $400 sum to the Gettysburg Recreation Board for playground uses this summer. It was pointed out the increases would not upset the budget in view of the fact that the now suspended Blue and Gray band will turn back to the council about $100 in its treasury.

Hope To Clear Streets By May 30

The Gettysburg borough council and its engineer, Leroy H. Winebrenner, are going to do everything in their power to have Gettysburg's main street free of barricades, ditches and chuck holes by May 30.

Council on Monday evening placed a ban on all new openings in the main streets until after May 30 — except in cases of extreme emergency.

That action was taken after Mr. Winebrenner told council the state had requested that the street patching work be completed by that time. He added that on Monday he received a gas company application for a permit for a new opening in a section of Baltimore street already patched.

MISS RAMER IS NEW PRESIDENT OF LOCAL NCCW

Miss Mary Ramer was elected president of the local chapter of the National Council of Catholic Women at its regular meeting Monday evening in St. Francis Xavier school social rooms.

Mrs. J. Walter Coleman was elected vice president; Mrs. C. E. Swisher, secretary, and Miss Lindora Roddy, treasurer.

Miss Mary Eberhart, president of the Conewago Deanery of the NCCW, announced that the annual deanery meeting will be held in St. Joseph's hall, Bonneville, Sunday afternoon, May 21. Miss Ramer, as president, and one delegate will represent the local parish council at the session, it was decided.

A shrine in honor of the Blessed Virgin was erected in the hall at the school and a large exhibit of handicraft of the members of the Caroline Codori Girl Scout troop was on display as part of a court of awards for the troop held in connection with the NCCW meeting.

Awards For Girl Scouts

Miss Rose Marie Smith was reader for the court and the award of first class scout was given to Miss Smith and Miss Catherine Small. Second class awards were given the Misses Mary Louise Cole, Lorraine Small, Barbara Ann Roth, Barbara Ann Little, Barbara Ann Small and Helen McGlaughlin. Tenderfoot awards were made to the Misses Anne Cullison, Dolores Hardman, Jean Smith, Joan Stock, Pearl Rider, Helen Cole, Doris Sanders and Betty McClellan.

After the meeting, tea was served by the scout troop under the supervision of Mrs. Romeo Capozzi and Miss Lindora Roddy, assistant leaders of the troop. Miss Jane Ramer and Miss Anne Louise Stock poured while the Misses Lois Small, Rose Marie Smith and Catherine Small served, assisted by the second class scouts.

Plans were made by the NCCW for a benefit party to be held in the Xavier hall basement May 16. Mrs. George Groft was named chairman with Mrs. Mary Felix, Mrs. Lloyd McGlaughlin, Mrs. Jacob Small, Mrs. Paul Ramer, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. Arthur E. Roth, Mrs. Mark Stock, Mrs. Clarence Steinhorn and Mrs. Norman Robinson as members.

ASK NEW TRIAL IN $1,400 SUIT

A motion for a new trial and for judgment notwithstanding the verdict has been filed at the county prothonotary's office in the action in assumpsit brought by Albert O. Beck and Maria Beck, Chicago, against Freda Lucille Stanley, near New Chester.

A county jury last Thursday afternoon awarded Beck $1,400 after deliberation on the claim that he had given that amount to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley to keep for him, and that they had not returned it. The verdict of the jury read that it found in favor of Albert O. Beck and against Stanley for $600 and against Mr. and Mrs. Stanley for $800.

In the motion filed by the Stanleys' attorneys, Swope, Brown and Swope, Esqs., it is sought to remove the claim against Mrs. Stanley. The petition states that the claim against Freda Lucille Stanley is "against the law, against the evidence and against the weight of the evidence" and asserts that the "learned judge erred in failing to direct a non suit as against Freda Lucille Stanley as there is no evidence whatsoever indicating any agreement on the part of Freda Lucille Stanley to care for any monies of Albert O. Beck."

GROWERS URGE LABOR CAMPS

A committee of members of the county fruit growers' association, meeting with the county farm labor officials Monday evening at the court house, put themselves on record as favoring work camps as the only possible way in which to obtain sufficient help to harvest the county's fruit crops, and agreed to do everything possible to help the county emergency farm labor committee in securing outside help.

The growers were in agreement that the county's available help cannot possibly handle the expected large harvest of fruits and a number of growers expressed willingness immediately to decide upon the number of additional helpers they will need and what periods they will need them for. Others stated they could not be very definite until later in the season on the dates and need for helpers.

The question of what prices will be paid the workers was discussed generally with most feeling that there are too many "intangibles" at the present time to set a wage scale. Most were of the opinion that "we don't want any John L. Lewis method of saying just what will be paid and what won't" but all agreed that a "prevailing wage" allowing variations must be decided upon soon in order to have something definite to offer incoming laborers.

Twenty-five persons attended the session at which County Agent M. T. Hartman presided.

Charge To Be Laid In Truck-Car Crash

Charles B. Wambaugh, Dallas-town R. 1, will be charged before Justice of the Peace W. D. Brown, Straban township, with passing an other vehicle at an intersection as a result of an accident Monday morning on the Lincoln highway, five miles east of here, state police said today.

Wambaugh was the driver of the car which collided with a milk truck owned by C. M. Wolf, Gettysburg, and driven by J. Walter Phillips, New Oxford R. 3, at 7:30 a. m. Monday. Both vehicles were traveling east when Phillips attempted to turn into the Hunterstown road from the Lincoln highway and Wambaugh attempted to pass the Wolf truck. Total damage was $150. The Wambaugh car overturned after striking the left front of the Wolf truck.

Patrol System Is Explained To Scouters

The patrol system as the basis for an active boy scout troop was explained Monday evening by D. D. Crisp, York-Adams Boy Scout area field executive at the last in a series of Leadership training classes held during the last seven weeks. The session was held at the farm of J. W. Stevenson, Orlanna R. D.

Scout leaders of the various troops in the Black Walnut district took part in the program which included division of the scouters into patrols and the making of meals by the two patrols formed.

"Every scout must have a job in the patrol if we are to fulfill our purpose of building better citizens and better leaders," Mr. Crisp told the group. "The patrol, made up of eight boys, is a natural organization which allows each man to have a job to do, and gives each scout some opportunity to lead, whether he be patrol leader, assistant, grubmaster, quartermaster, or whatever his title may be."

Draft Boards Send Men For Physicals

The Gettysburg Selective Service board today sent a contingent of Gettysburg and western Adams county men to Harrisburg for physical examination prior to induction into the armed forces. The board would not state how many men were in the call.

The New Oxford draft board Monday sent its May contingent to Harrisburg for physical examinations.

FLOODS BREAK MORE LEVEES

(By The Associated Press)

Ripping open another major levee, the flooding Mississippi river spread today over 51,000 acres behind the breached dike at Preston, Ill., while its rampant tributary, the Illinois, continued a destructive course below Beardstown.

The Preston break was described by the U. S. Army district engineer's office at St. Louis as "like an explosion—the river tore the levee clear through from the bottom up."

The major break in the current flood, which reached its highest crest in 100 years, the breach at Preston will give some temporary relief from the river's pressure against weakened levees downstream.

Although the river crested at St. Louis Sunday, the slowly receding waters were still threatening levees upstream in the Choteau, Nameoka and Venice districts on the Illinois side.

The Mercedosa levee on the Illinois river below Beardstown was listed as critical by the engineers. The Coast Guard cutter Oleander and eight smaller boats were dispatched to the area for evacuation work.

Losses on the Mississippi have been held to a minimum by various agencies applying previous experience, Major Gen. Eugene Reynolds, Washington, chief of the army engineers, reported after a tour of the area.

MORE RC GIFTS

Contributions to the Adams County Red Cross War Relief fund reached the $28,409.51 mark today with a number of contributions reported including $5 each from Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson and Cpl. John Leier and $3 from Mrs. William Lott.

Yank Private Smashes Nazi Attack And Saves Platoon

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 28 (Delayed) (AP)—Alone, alone, Pfc. William J. Johnston had smashed a German attack, then single handed had covered one withdrawal of his platoon. But the Germans were coming in again and the medic said he was dying, so he had to be left behind.

"It's OK, fellows," he said when they left him on the ground with a shell fragment wound in his chest and his machine-gun nearby. "The Jerries paid for it and they'll pay more."

Soon after they heard the gun chattering. Ten minutes later it was silent again and the platoon back in a new position figured it was all over for the game fighting man from Colchester, Conn.

LOCAL MEN AT ROTARY MEET

Seventeen members of the local Rotary club attended the 28th annual conference of the 180th district of Rotary International Monday at Harrisburg. John J. Shank, Waynesboro, was elected district governor succeeding Albert S. Schmidt, of Harrisburg.

Delegates from 91 clubs in the district attended the session at which Bill Jack of Jack and Heintz, Cleveland manufacturing concern, asserted, "returning fighting men do not want a glorified WPA when they come back from battle" and urged the business men to plan now to provide jobs, according to the Associated Press.

The local members attending included: Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Walter T. Africa, Harry C. L. Miller, P. Ward Stallsmith, M. C. Jones, J. S. Cairns, J. P. Cairns, Dr. Rasmus S. Baby, J. I. Burgoon, H. Wilbur Baker, Vernon B. Corle, Frederic E. Griest, Dr. Frederick Tiberg, Charles Eicholtz, Samuel G. Spangler, William Tyson and Albert Fisher. A number of the local members were accompanied by their wives. The session was the largest district convention ever held, it was announced, with 1,273 persons attending.

Amateur Biologists Work On Feline Case

Robert P. "Speed" Walters, east Stevens street, is waiting anxiously for a report from a biology class at Gettysburg high school as to what has caused a retrogression among a family of cats owned by him.

The high school students are going to look over the three kittens still surviving from a litter of four by a cat owned by Mr. Walters. Of the four cats, one has a full length tail, another a stump of a tail and the other two have no tails at all. One of the tailless felines has died, while the other seems in good health. The kittens are about five weeks old.

HOSPITAL REPORT

John Myers, Fairfield R. 2, and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Gettysburg, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Russell Shetter, Gettysburg R. 5; Jane Felix, Breckenridge street; Mrs. Ernest Sillik, Biglerville R. 2, and Mervin Kauffman, Hampton, have been discharged.

Yank Private Smashes Nazi Attack And Saves Platoon

But the next morning an outpost saw a soldier struggling for the American lines. He walked a few steps, fell, then crawled, then rested.

Two men brought him in. It was Johnston, weak from his wound and his bare feet bruised bad torn. The Germans had believed him dead when they found his prone figure beside his machine-gun and had taken his shoes.

He could barely talk but his first words told of the enemy's location and enabled American gunners to put down heavy fire on Nazi gun positions.

That was only the finale of a remarkable one-man war that has earned a recommendation for citation for Johnston now recovering in an Army hospital.

Postpone Class For Nurses' Aides

The next class of Nurses' Aides, scheduled to start Monday evening, has been postponed until June 15, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, chairman of the Red Cross committee in charge of the project, announced today.

Seven women reported for service with the Nurses' Aides group but because several of the women have previous commitments and others will not be in Gettysburg for the entire course it was decided to postpone the class until the middle of next month.

COMMITTEES OF LEAGUE BUSY ON PLANS FOR PLAY

The final dress rehearsal for the cast of 10 local thespians who will present the play, "Lavender and Old Lace," Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the college gym, will be held this evening. Dr. Richard A. Arms and Fred G. Pfeffer, a member of the cast, are directing the production.

The cast includes Mrs. Russell A. Campbell, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Mrs. Elmira Slaybaugh Deardorff, Mrs. Charlotte Waltemyer Smith, Bert Stracker, Mrs. Peggy Zinn Sheely, Mr. Pfeffer, Mrs. Elizabeth McIlhenny Messner, Dr. George R. (Bowie) Miller and Prof. W. D. Hartshorne.

Pre-Invasion Air Assault In Eighteenth Day

By GLADWIN HILL

London, May 2 (AP)—American Liberators bombed German installations in northern France at midday today carrying the great pre-invasion air offensive into its 18th consecutive day after 1,000 or more heavy bombers assaulted enemy targets by night in France, Belgium, Italy and Germany.

Up to 750 heavy British and Canadian bombers flew from England through a cloudless night against German aircraft, chemical, auto and explosive factories and against the rail targets on which the enemy must depend to meet invasion, the British air ministry announced. The others rose from Italian bases.

About 500 American planes were estimated authoritatively to have made today's attack, half of them Liberators and half Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters.

Repeated Crossings Of Channel

Formations of Allied medium bombers and fighters crossed and recrossed the channel skies in the early afternoon, after the Liberators had returned from their mission. The Liberators encountered no German fighters and an unusually small amount of flak.

"It was one of the best missions of the 13 I've been on," commented Lt. John Nortridge, Freeport, Ill., a pilot, "when you looked out, you saw fighter cover everywhere. There was no flak anywhere against our group."

A communique identified the Liberators' target as the Pas-de-Calais area and said all planes returned.

Thunderbolt fighter-bombers, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters attacked rail yards at Tergnier and Lemans deep in France while the Liberators were striking French soil closest to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's invasion masses.

Lemans Is Important Junction

Lemans is one of the most important junctions in western France, a funnel for traffic between Paris and big western ports such as St. Nazaire and Brest.

The fighter-bombers' sweep raised to 21 the number of railroad objectives attacked in the last 24 hours, nearly as many as were hit all last week.

These operations, probably the most far-flung although not the heaviest conducted by the RAF, came while Allied heavy and medium bombers in the Mediterranean theater shot a four-ply blow at key German-held cities in Italy. They also followed attacks by Britain-based daylight raiders, of which 2,000 were American, which chewed up 17 rail junctions through which supplies and men move to Hitler's Atlantic wall.

Complete 4,000 Sorties

The night attacks capped 17 straight days of uninterrupted large scale raids on the Germans' European fortress from both Britain and Italy.

The operational record from Britain yesterday was around 4,000 sorties (individual plane flights) while Allied planes based in Italy added 1,300 more sorties to the pre-invasion aerial crescendo. Ten planes from the RAF British-based sky fleet failed to return, while two Allied aircraft were reported missing from all daylight and night operations yesterday in the Italian theater. Two enemy planes were destroyed in the Italian theater.

OYLER, STINE BUY BUSINESS

The building containing the Dougherty and Hartley store, center square, has been sold to Mrs. Alice J. Dougherty, widow of one of the founders of the concern, it was learned today.

A deed filed with the office of the county Register and Recorder Monday afternoon shows that the executors of the late Howard C. Hartley, Robert C. and Ida Hartley Sperry, have sold their share in the two tracts which make up the store property to Mrs. Dougherty, in accordance with an agreement between the former partners.

Edward N. Stine and John I. Oiler, employees of Dougherty and Hartley, at the same time purchased the business and will continue trading as "Dougherty and Hartley." Mr. Stine, who had been employed by the firm for 25 years and Mr. Oiler, who worked there for 40 years, said today they planned to continue with the same policies as before. They were offered first chance to buy the business under the terms of Mr. Hartley's will.

The Dougherty and Hartley store has been in business as such since 1892.

COMING ALLIED OFFENSIVES TO LEAD TO "KILL"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press War Analyst)

Marshal Stalin has the knack of imparting grim finality to his orders of the day, and the already raw nerves of the Hitlerites must have been raked anew by his May Day pronouncement which presaged the concerted Allied action that will pursue the "wounded German beast" to its lair and "finish it off."

While the Soviet chief was issuing this call to united action, the Red air force was administering a pointed reminder of the retribution to come. Brest-Litovsk, ancient and strategic city of many war calamities, was heavily bombed. It was there that the new-born Soviet in 1918 accepted harsh German peace conditions "dictated to her by Germany, sword in hand." Moscow has never forgotten that.

Time For Breather

Just as there is no doubt that the western Allies are on the verge of delivering the mightiest amphibious attack of history, so it is equally sure that the Red armies are girding themselves for fresh onslaughts. The Muscovite war machine likely will start to roll about the time the Anglo-American-French Allies strike, and once it is under way it may well not halt until it is grinding German soil.

There has been a lull in most sectors of the Russian front, the exception being in the Crimea where the Red siege of the great naval base of Sevastopol continues. There are several reasons for this slackening off, none of which means that it is anything more than a temporary pause.

For one thing the Red forces had been fighting so long and steadily that they were due for a breather. It was an opportune moment to take it, since the spring weather has been making military movement difficult. Also the armies would be in need of overhauling and replacements after the terrific grind through which they have passed.

Ready For "Long Run"

Even more vital would be the necessity of repairing communications which have been extended so far and so rapidly since last summer. The feat of the Russians in making their communications keep pace with their armies in the wild rush over hundreds of miles is one of the war's marvels.

This is particularly true since even where they have captured stretches of railway intact, they've had to re-lay the tracks. The Russian railroads are on a wider gauge than those of the rest of Europe, and the Germans had relaid the Soviet tracks to conform with their own gauge.

In making all these preparations for new offensives, the Russians must bear in mind that they probably are about to start the last lap to Berlin, and it will be a long run. Once they've begun they may not find it feasible to pause more than momentarily.

To Hit Several Sectors

This means that the impending Allied offensives are calculated to be the final decisive attack—the kill. The idea is to give Hitler no rest, once the multiple onslaught starts, two or three vital sectors of the long Russo-German front at once. The Muscovites are likely to hit in There are signs of a Red offensive boiling up in the Baltic region—a dangerous zone for the Nazis. Then we may expect that Red drive in the Lwow sector of southeast Poland. This is the direct route to the heart of Poland—and the heart of Germany as well.

GROW BET

COMING ALLIED OFFENSIVES TO LEAD TO "KILL"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Marshal Stalin has the knack of imparting grim finality to his orders of the day, and the already raw nerves of the Hitlerites must have been raked anew by his May Day pronouncement which presaged the concerted Allied action that will pursue the "wounded" German beast to its lair and "finish it off."

While the Soviet chief is issuing this call to united action, the Red air force was administering a pointed reminder of the retribution to come. Brest-Litovsk, ancient and strategic city of many war calamities, was heavily bombed. It was there that the new-born Soviet in 1918 accepted harsh German peace conditions "dictated to her by Germany, sword in hand." Moscow has never forgotten that.

Time For Breather

Just as there is no doubt that the western Allies are on the verge of delivering the mightiest amphibious attack of history, so it is equally sure that the Red armies are girding themselves for fresh onslaughts. The Muscovite war machine likely will start to roll about the time the Anglo-American-French Allies strike, and once it's under way it may well not halt until it is grinding German soil.

There has been a lull in most sectors of the Russian front, the exception being in the Crimea where the Red stage of the great naval base of Sevastopol continues. There are several reasons for this slackening off, none of which means that it is anything more than a temporary pause.

For one thing the Red forces had been fighting so long and steadily that they were due for a breather. It was an opportune moment to take it, since the spring weather has been making military movement difficult. Also the armies would be in need of overhauling and replacements after the terrific grind through which they have passed.

Ready For "Long Run"

Even more vital would be the necessity of repairing communications which have been extended so far and so rapidly since last summer. The feat of the Russians in making their communications keep pace with their armies in the wild rush over hundreds of miles is one of the war's marvels.

This is particularly true since even where they have captured stretches of railway intact, they've had to re-lay the tracks. The Russian railroads are on a wider gauge than those of the rest of Europe, and the Germans had relaid the Soviet tracks to conform with their own gauge.

In making all these preparations for new offensives, the Russians must bear in mind that they probably are about to start the last lap to Berlin, and it will be a long run. Once they've begun they may not find it feasible to pause more than momentarily.

To Hit Several Sectors

This means that the impending Allied offensives are calculated to be the final decisive attack—the kill. The idea is to give Hitler no rest, once the multiple onslaught starts, two or three vital sectors of the long Russo-German front at once. The Muscovites are likely to hit in there are signs of a Red offensive boiling up in the Baltic region—a dangerous zone for the Nazis. Then we may expect that Red drive in the Lwow sector of southeast Poland. This is the direct route to the heart of Poland—and the heart of Germany as well.

Weddings

Starnes-Bowers

Miss Ruthanna Bowers, Littlestown, and Albert M. Starnes, Hanover, were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. The Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the large number of relatives and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Charles H. Bowers. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was played as the processional by the church organist, Miss Lois C. Yealy.

The bride's cousin, Miss Erma Grace Epley, New Oxford, was maid of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Leister, Littlestown, and Miss Charlotte Hartlaub, Hanover, cousins of the bride.

The best man was Hayward Epley, Hanover, cousin of the bride. The ushers were Fred Leister, Littlestown, cousin of the bride, and Norman Wildasin, Hanover. The ring bearer was Albert Forry, Hanover, cousin of the bride.

Proceeding the ceremony a 15-minute organ recital was given by Miss Yealy.

A reception for 175 guests was held following the ceremony in the social room of the church.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bowers, was graduated from Littlestown high school in 1939. She has been active in the work of the church. She is employed as bookkeeper at the Stanley B. Stover electrical store. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Starnes, Hanover. He was graduated from the Eisenhower senior high school in 1941 and is a machinist employed by the R. H. Sheppard company, Hanover.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip following the ceremony. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents in Littlestown.

MYATT GETS 6 HITS AS NATS DEFEAT BOSTON

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Jim (no hits, no nuthin') Tobin takes a hitless streak of 13 2-3 innings into Brooklyn today as he makes his bid for a double no-hitter in the same ball park where Johnny Vandermeer did the trick six years ago.

Fans of the nation look for some novel twists in today's duel between Tobin and the Brooklyn club. The Durocher clan is expected to bunt and scramble for anything resembling a base knock with high hopes of a rousing afternoon. Tobin is saying nothing but letting that record do the talking.

The entire National League enjoyed an open day yesterday before shifting around for new series today. A modern batting record was tied by George Myatt of Washington in one of the two games played in the American.

Cleveland Triumphs
Myatt collected six hits in six at bats as Washington mauled Boston, 11-4. Uncle Wilbert Robinson still holds the all-time record for one game of seven hits for seven with Baltimore in 1892.

Roger Wolff had an easy time of it behind the Senators 20-hit outburst and found time to chime in with three singles in addition to scattering 11 Red Sox safeties.

Jimmy Grant, a Chicago White Sox castoff, made his old manager live to regret it by haunting his old mates with a game-winning double in Cleveland's 9-3 victory.

ARCARO ONLY FORMER WINNER

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Out of the maze of unfamiliar owners, little known trainers and unpredictable horses that surrounds Saturday's renewal of the Kentucky Derby rises the name of Eddie Arcaro to dominate pre-race calculations as few jockeys have in the 70 years of the turf classic.

The name of the 29-year-old Italian from nearby Newport, Ky., pops up almost every time the Derby is discussed, and that is often in these parts with seven eligibles getting in their final test in the Derby trial today at Churchill Downs and some 15 other horses waiting in their stalls for the big race.

Arcaro, hailed by many horsemen as the best rider in the land, will be up on 8th St. Saturday and that fact, as much as the proven ability of the son of Stimulus, has made Mrs. Payne Whitney's representative the strong favorite to be on the front end of the $75,000 parade at the end of the testing mile and one-quarter.

Eddie will be the only rider in the race that has tasted the fruits of a Derby victory. He booted Lawrin home for Herbert M. Woolf in 1938 and repeated in 1941 with Warren Wright's Whirlaway, world's leading money winning thoroughbred. If he is successful again he'll be the third jockey to win three Derbies. Isaac Murphy and Earl (Handy man) Sance each turned the trick.

Favorites Victors In Ring Battles

Pittsburgh, May 2 (AP)—Three favorites punched their way to unanimous and easy decisions in last night's final edition of the Rooney-McGinley Boxing club's indoor showings for the season, but they left a crowd of 3,500 patrons disappointed at their showings, none-the-less.

Bee Wright, 149, Clairton's welterweight prospect, won every heat as he took the final eight-rounder from Ernie (Cat) Robinson, 146, Philadelphia, but failed to come through with the quick knockout his followers had expected, although he did have the rugged negro down for a nine count in the first round.

Wright was hurt late in the seventh when Robinson landed a hard right to his chin, but hung on to finish the round and take the decision.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 2 (AP)—Master Sergeant Zeke Bonura has had an informal invitation to teach the British how to play baseball after the war. It seems that Zeke gave some English soldiers instructions last summer in Africa and later a couple of officers, highly impressed by Bonura's ability and gentleness, asked him how he'd like to continue that work. But Zeke told Pvt. "Doc" Goldstein that he had passed up the bid because he feels he has a couple of good baseball years left and he'd like to return to swinging that old bludgeon as soon as the war ends. Dean Cromwell, Southern California track coach, names Freshman Roland Sink of USC as the boy who may run the four-minute mile. But he says it will take eight years if his training isn't interrupted and he retains his enthusiasm.

While the boys who competed against Bob Steuber at the Drake relays are ineligible for further amateur competition until their district associations "clear up" their status, his Purdue relays opponents aren't in such a pickle. Bob got little or no advance publicity as a pro and Dan Ferris presumes they didn't know about it. Jimmy Johnson argues that one reason why his fighter, Tony Shucco, is better off than "Eenie, Miney and Moe." Savold, Baksi and Mauriello—is that Jimmy does all the managing for Shucco while the others have five "managers" apiece and then have the last word themselves. Alan Ford, Yale's record-smashing swimmer, plans to concentrate on the 220-yard freestyle, having cleaned up the shorter records.

Casimir Eugene Keletniewski, White Sox third baseman—The scorers have shortened it to "Cass Kwiet" but Cass and his brother are trying to agree on a better handle. Jimmy Dykes says it should be Cass "Phenom" because the kid looks so good for an 18-year-old.

But you'll notice Tony Cuccinello has been playing third for the Sox. A pickup from Detroit sandlots, Kwiet batted .507 and .600 in two American Legion tourneys, has a strong arm and fine pair of hands.

CUBS LOOK FOR NEW MANAGER; WILSON QUILTS

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Jimmy Wilson was looking for a new baseball job today and the Chicago Cubs were hunting for a new manager to take his place as boss of the National league cellar club.

"I'm interested in staying in baseball and I'm open for offers," said Wilson, a National league player-coach-manager for 10 years, as he announced his resignation yesterday.

Bristling with draft free talent—including the pick of Milwaukee of the American Association and Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league, both pennant winners last year—the Cubs returned home yesterday mired in a nine game losing streak. They have only one win for the National league campaign, their opener against Cincinnati.

Wilson's resignation was announced after a conference with Phil K. Wrigley, Cubs' owner and James Gallagher, vice president and general manager. They called him in to learn why the club was on the skids. The 43-year-old Wilson who succeeded Gabby Hartnett, taking over in 1941, offered his resignation.

Johnson At Helm
"I have no squawks," he said. "When you don't win you have to vamoose. I hope my resignation will improve the club."

Wrigley announced that Roy Johnson, veteran coach in the Cub organization, would become acting field manager. Wilson promptly wished Johnson luck—"enough of it to stick as manager."

But speculation was rife as to his permanent successor as boss of the club which many observers picked as a pennant contender this season.

Names popped up from a list aired a year ago when Wilson's popularity with Chicago fans reached such a pitch that he was booed while on the coaching lines. Jimmy sauntered to the dugout after that incident and never returned to the coaching box.

The list included Casey Stengel, who resigned this winter as manager of the Boston Braves; Bill Terry, ex-boss of the New York Giants; Bill Jurgens, now of the Giants and a great popular shortstop with the Cubs for several years; "Muddy" Ruel, Chicago White Sox coach, and Bill Sweeney, pilot of the Cubs' 1943 Pacific Coast championship Los Angeles team.

On such confessions, obtained under grilling, men have been imprisoned and executed after conviction in court.

Now the Supreme court hands down a decision which may strike at the heart of such procedure. Whether it does, or how far it goes, is not clear to capital lawyers.

This is what happened: E. E. Ashcraft and John Ware, a negro, were convicted in Tennessee in the slaying of Ashcraft's wife near Memphis in 1941. They were sentenced to 99 years each.

They appealed unsuccessfully through all the Tennessee courts. Then they went to the United States Supreme court. They said their conviction violated the 14th amendment to the Constitution which guarantees that no person shall be deprived of life or liberty without due process of law.

This was their case: After 36 hours of questioning, Ashcraft allegedly confessed and implicated Ware. The Supreme court reversed the Tennessee decisions, holding that if Ashcraft had made a confession it must have been involuntary because of the long grilling.

Approval of most of Governor Martin's selections to a dozen key posts, seven major boards and commissions and hundreds of minor jobs was indicated as the special assembly session headed into its second day.

The Democratic minority, holding the balance of power, voted to oppose confirmation of Leo Abernathy, Pittsburgh, as a member of the state Labor Relations Board "for all kinds of reasons." Party Chairman David L. Lawrence announced.

TUNGSTEN ORE SHIPPING FROM SPAIN REDUCED

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The state department today announced a compromise agreement with Spain cutting Spanish Wolfram shipments to the Nazis to virtual token supplies, which, it was implied, may soon be blocked completely by Allied invasion forces in France.

The United States accepted the compromise at the insistence of the British, who were said to rely on Spain for certain essential war supplies.

Points agreed to were:
1. In May and June Spain may export not more than 20 tons of the vital Tungsten ore to Germany monthly.

2. For the rest of 1944, not more than 40 tons monthly may be sent. To Free Five Ships

4. The German consulate and other Axis agencies in Tangier are to be closed.

5. Five of seven Italian merchant ships now interned by Spain are to be released immediately; disposition of the two others, and of Italian warships in Spanish waters is to be submitted to arbitration.

To Lift Oil Embargo
6. All Spanish forces have already been withdrawn from the Russian front.

7. The Anglo-American oil embargo on Spain is to be lifted immediately, with resumption of old quotas of 48,000 tons of bulk oil from the Caribbean monthly for Metropolitan Spain, 13,000 for the colonies, and 15,000 tons of packaged petroleum products from the United States.

The official announcement, made jointly with a statement by British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden in the house of commons, indicated that Germany is unlikely to receive more than allotted Wolfram supplies for two or three months before Allied military operations.

The United States wanted to hold out for a flat embargo, such as Spain imposed during the three months that the discussions dragged on, but the British urged the compromise.

STATE CHURCH COUNCIL MEETS
Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Juvenile delinquency, education and the effect of migrations of populations on churches were up for discussion today at the one-day 15th annual convention of the Pennsylvania council of churches here.

Dr. William L. Mudge, executive secretary of the council, said the deliberations also will include addresses and floor discussion of evangelism, the women's place in "a Christian tomorrow," and the concern of Christians in the peace which will follow the war.

"If we are going to have a world community," declared Dr. Mudge, "we feel that we need the cooperation of local communities. This work must begin at home and we are going to try to get that thought across."

Delegates from some 24 church denominations and two others with affiliated membership in the council, representing about 2,200,000 Pennsylvania church-goers, are expected for the sessions.

$25 Fines For Theft Of Gasoline Coupons

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Fines of $25 each and a year on probation were meted out in U. S. district court here yesterday to six York county residents arrested last January in connection with an Office of Price Administration investigation of what it termed the theft of ration coupons worth 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil.

Judge Albert W. Johnson fined the defendants on a charge of illegal possession of varying amounts of coupons and placed them on probation after suspending imposition of sentence on other charges.

All pleaded guilty. The arrests were made at the request of the Harrisburg district OPA office after OPA charged coupons got into circulation illegally when a paper shredder of a Washington salvage firm failed to destroy them and they were shipped to York county as waste paper.

SENATE GROUP PROBES CHARGE ON CIO FUNDS

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The senate committee on Campaign expenditures sought today to learn "the facts" behind Attorney General Biddle's recent opinion that activities of the CIO political action committee are not in violation of the corrupt practices act.

At the request of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), the senate group called in James P. McGranery, assistant to the attorney general, for questioning about the opinion.

Biddle rejected a request by Rep. Smith (D-Va.), co-author of the war labor disputes act, that he seek an indictment against the CIO group, which currently is re-sifting efforts by the Dies committee on un-American affairs to get possession of its financial records.

In asking for the prosecution, Smith alleged that the committee by raising an initial fund of $700,000 from CIO unions for campaign purposes was seeking to "influence if not control" the national elections this fall.

To Question Biddle's Office
Smith held this was in "flagrant violation" of the corrupt practices act, which was amended by the labor disputes law to prohibit any labor organization, or corporation, from making any "contribution in connection with an election" of federal officials.

Biddle said after an investigation by his office that he found nothing to justify a grand jury inquiry.

Senator Ferguson disclosed he asked the senate campaign committee headed by Senator Green (R-RI) to summon a representative of Biddle's office for questioning "on what ground the attorney general reached the conclusion he did."

MYATT GETS 6 HITS AS NATS DEFEAT BOSTON

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Jim (no hits, no nuthin') Tobin takes a hitless streak of 13 2-3 innings into Brooklyn today as he makes his bid for a double no-hitter in the same ball park where Johnny Vandermeer did the trick six years ago.

Fans of the nation look for some novel twists in today's duel between Tobin and the Brooklyn club. The Durocher clan is expected to bunt and scramble for anything resembling a base knock with high hopes of a rousing afternoon. Tobin is saying nothing but letting that record do the talking.

The entire National League enjoyed an open date yesterday before shifting around for new series today but a modern batting record was tied by George Myatt of Washington in one of the two games played in the American.

Cleveland Triumphs
Myatt collected six hits in six at bats as Washington mauled Boston, 11-4. Uncle Wilbert Robinson still holds the all-time record for one game of seven hits for seven with Baltimore in 1892.

Roger Wolff had an easy time of it behind the Senators 20-hit outburst and found time to chime in with three singles in addition to scattering 11 Red Sox safeties. Jimmy Grant, a Chicago White Sox castoff, made his old manager live to regret it by haunting his old mates with a game-winning double in Cleveland's 9-3 victory.

ARCARO ONLY FORMER WINNER

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Louisville, Ky., May 2 (AP)—Out of the maze of unfamiliar owners, little known trainers and unpredictable horses that surrounds Saturday's renewal of the Kentucky Derby rises the name of Eddie Arcaro to dominate pre-race calculations as few jockeys have in the 70 years of the turf classic.

The name of the 29-year-old Italian from nearby Newport, Ky., pops up almost every time the Derby is discussed, and that is often in these parts with seven eligibles getting in their final test in the Derby trial today at Churchill Downs and some 15 other horses waiting in their stalls for the big race.

Arcaro, hailed by many horsemen as the best rider in the land, will be up on 8th St. Saturday and that fact, as much as the proven ability of the son of Stimulus, has made Mrs. Payne Whitney's representative the strong favorite to be on the front end of the $75,000 parade at the end of the testing mile and one-quarter.

Eddie will be the only rider in the race that has tasted the fruits of a Derby victory. He booted Lawrin home for Herbert M. Woolf in 1938 and repeated in 1941 with Warren Wright's Whirlaway, world's leading money winning thoroughbred. If he is successful again he'll be the third jockey to win three Derbies. Isaac Murphy and Earl (Handy man) Sance each earned the trick.

Favorites Victors In Ring Battles

Pittsburgh, May 2 (AP)—Three favorites punched their way to unanimous and easy decisions in last night's final edition of the Rooney-McGinley Boxing club's indoor showings for the season, but they left a crowd of 3,500 patrons disappointed at their showings, none-the-less.

Bee Bee Wright, 149, Clairton's welterweight prospect, won every heat as he took the final eight-round fight over Ernie (Cat) Robinson, 146, Philadelphia, but failed to come through with the quick knockout his followers had expected, although he did have the rugged negro down for a nine count in the first round.

Wright was hurt late in the seventh when Robinson landed a hard right to his chin, but hung on to finish the round and take the decision.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 2 (AP)—Master Sergeant Zeke Bonura has had an informal invitation to teach the British how to play baseball after the war.

It seems that Zeke gave some English soldiers instructions last summer in Africa and later a couple of officers, highly impressed by Bonura's ability and gentleness, asked him how he'd like to continue that work. But Zeke told Pvt. "Doc" Goldstein that he had passed up the bid because he feels he has a couple of good baseball years left and he'd like to return to swinging that old bludgeon as soon as the war ends.

Dean Cromwell, Southern California track coach, names Freshman Roland Sink of USC as the boy who may run the four-minute mile. But he says it will take eight years if his training isn't interrupted and he retains his enthusiasm.

While the boys who competed against Bob Steuber at the Drake relays are ineligible for further amateur competition until their district associations "clear up" their status, his Purdue relays opponents aren't in such a pickle. Bob got little or no advance publicity as a pro and Dan Ferris presumes they didn't know about it. Jimmy Johnson argues that one reason why his fighter, Tony Shucro, is better off than "Ennie, Miney and Moe"—Savold, Baksi and Maurilio—is that Jimmy does all the managing for Shucro while the others have five "managers" apiece and then have the last word themselves. Chapman proposed a commission of five senators and five representatives whose study would include advisability of construction of a hospital or sanatorium and a laboratory.

CUBS LOOK FOR NEW MANAGER; WILSON QUILTS

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Chicago, May 2 (AP)—Jimmy Wilson was looking for a new baseball job today and the Chicago Cubs were hunting for a new manager to take his place as boss of the National league cellar club.

"I'm interested in staying in baseball and I'm open for offers," said Wilson, a National league player-coach-manager for 20 years, as he announced his resignation yesterday.

Bristling with draft free talent—including the pick of Milwaukee of the American Association and Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league, both pennant winners last year—the Cubs returned home yesterday mired in a nine game losing streak. They have only one win for the National league campaign, their opener against Cincinnati.

Wilson's resignation was announced after a conference with Phil K. Wrigley, Cubs' owner and James Gallagher, vice president and general manager. They called him in to learn why the club was on the skids. The 43-year-old Wilson who succeeded Gabby Hartnett, taking over in 1941, offered his resignation.

Johnson At Helm
"I have no squawks," he said. "When you don't win you have to yamoose. I hope my resignation will improve the club."

Wrigley announced that Roy Johnson, veteran coach in the Cub organization, would become acting field manager. Wilson promptly wished Johnson luck—"enough of it to stick as manager."

But speculation was rife as to his permanent successor as boss of the club which many observers picked as a pennant contender this season.

Names popped up from a list aired a year ago when Wilson's popularity with Chicago fans reached such a pitch that he was booed while on the coaching lines. Jimmy sauntered to the dugout after that incident and never returned to the coaching box.

The list included Casey Stengel, who resigned this winter as manager of the Boston Braves; Bill Terry, ex-boss of the New York Giants; Bill Jurgens, now of the Giants and a great popular shortstop with the Cubs for several years;

"Muddy" Ruel, Chicago White Sox coach, and Bill Sweeney, pilot of the Cubs' 1943 Pacific Coast championship Los Angeles team.

$25 Fines For Theft Of Gasoline Coupons

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Fines of $25 each and a year on probation were meted out in U. S. district court here yesterday to six York county residents arrested last January in connection with an Office of Price Administration investigation of what it termed the theft of ration coupons worth 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline and fuel oil.

Judge Albert W. Johnson fined the defendants on a charge of illegal possession of varying amounts of coupons and placed them on probation after suspending imposition of sentence on other charges.

All pleaded guilty.

The arrests were made at the request of the Harrisburg district OPA office after OPA charged coupons got into circulation illegally when a paper shredder of a Washington salvage firm failed to destroy them and they were shipped to York county as waste paper.

SENATE GROUP PROBES CHARGE ON CIO FUNDS

Washington, May 2 (AP)—The senate committee on Campaign expenditures sought today to learn "the facts" behind Attorney General Biddle's recent opinion that activities of the CIO political action committee are not in violation of the corrupt practices act.

At the request of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), the senate group called in James P. McGranery, assistant to the attorney general, for questioning about the opinion.

Biddle rejected a request by Rep. Smith (D-Va.), co-author of the war labor disputes act, that he seek an indictment against the CIO group, which currently is resisting efforts by the Dies committee on un-American affairs to get possession of its financial records.

In asking for the prosecution, Smith alleged that the committee by raising an initial fund of $700,000 from CIO unions for campaign purposes, was seeking to "influence if not control" the national elections this fall.

To Question Biddle's Office
Smith held this was in "flagrant violation" of the corrupt practices act, which was amended by the labor disputes law to prohibit any labor organization, or corporation, from making any "contribution in connection with an election" of federal officials.

Biddle said after an investigation by his office that he found nothing to justify a grand jury inquiry.

Senator Ferguson disclosed he asked the senate campaign committee headed by Senator Green (R-RI) to summon a representative of Biddle's office for "questioning" on what ground the attorney general reached the conclusion he did.

An Evening Thought
Common sense is instinct, and enough of it is genius.—H. W. Shaw

Just Folks
STUBBORN MAN
A very stubborn brute is man
And slow to change or better.
Old Adam, father of the clan.
Still forges many a fetter,
For, though in worldly wit he grows,
His passions stay his chiefest foes.

In church or office, field or shop,
Not even for an hour
Will man his selfish purpose drop
Himself to come to power.
When any group holds more than three,
Soon by their quarrels torn 'twill
be.

Unlike the creatures of the field,
Whose simple passions lie
In food and mate—all else concealed
From them until they die,
Man adds to want a thousand
things,
From which untamed dissension
springs.

Jealous, self-centered, prone to lobe
And prey to lust and greed,
All the old sins of Adam's tribe
Are stigmas of our breed.
Made in God's image, stubborn man
Stays human as if 'twere the plan.

Today's Talk
OUR FEATHERED FRIENDS
Nothing in nature helps more to spiritualize us than the love of our feathered friends, who are not only a material benefit to the earth but a joy to the heart. Acquaint yourself with a lover of birds of nature, and you will have tied to a friend indeed.

The return of Springtime, with its glorious beauty of bursting buds and leafing shrubs and trees, would be but a partial celebration without the return of our many feathered friends, whose songs draw aside the very curtain of Heaven.

I am happy to note that there is a lessening of the collecting of birds' eggs by boys, and also of the wanton destruction of our song birds "just for the fun of killing." Scores of our most wonderful birds have vanished into memory, nothing remaining but the story of their having once lived. Certain lovely species of pigeons are now no more, that once were the joy of the forest.

I envy the life of Jack Miner, of Kingsville, Ontario, who is the friend and savior of thousands of ducks and geese, and of E. A. McIlhenny, of Avery Island, Louisiana, whose sanctuary of birds—especially the Egret—is a thing of wonder and miracle. He lovingly houses in that beautiful flowered park each year over a hundred thousand of these matchless ermine-clothed birds.

Not only are these feathered friends of ours outdoor police officers for our gardens, being sworn enemies of destructive insect life, but they give to man one of his most delicate joys—that of reverence for their Creator. Every species of bird is a perfect picture in nature of the very thought of God. Their beautiful plumage, their watchful eyes, and their songs and calls, purify the actual air and contribute greatly to the purging of men's minds of evil toward their fellow men.

We can learn greatly from the intelligence of these feathered friends, as well, which often exceeds that of man. They are happy, courteous workers. They are always companionable when kindly treated and fed. And their gratitude is repaid in the songs that they sing. He who kills a bird kills something precious within himself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Unfolding."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Odd Fellows Celebrate: The seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in this country, was celebrated on Thursday evening by Gettys Lodge in this place. Hart Gilbert, Esq., presided and the opening prayer was made by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Richard. The Rev. Dr. T. C. Billheimer made an excellent address on the principles of the order.

He was followed by the Rev. John Aze, who referred to the glorious past of Odd Fellowship. Robert D. Armor, the only living charter member, was called upon to give his recollections. Mr. Armor related that in the 49 years of its existence, Gettys Lodge has initiated 846 members, has an active list of 171 and has $8,000 invested in good securities. Lodges at York Springs, Bendersville and Fairfield have been organized by the Gettys Lodge.

Remarks were also made by C. J. Sefton and Hon. J. O. Neely, of Fairfield, and Geo. M. Diffenderfer, David McConaughy, Esq., Charles W. Holtzworth and Luther Y. Diller.

Refreshments were served and music was furnished by the Gettysburg orchestra. Isaac Scott sang several solos.

Wedding Bells: Miss Elizabeth K. Smythe, of Baltimore, and Dr. Charles B. Stouffer, of Gettysburg, were married Wednesday afternoon at the Franklin Street Presbyterian church, Baltimore, by the Rev. Dr. W. U. Munkland. The bride wore a white chrysanthemum with crepe, tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Dr. and Mrs. Stouffer will arrive here on the 7th inst.

Marriages: Houck-Cronise: April 25, at the bride's home in Biglerville, by the Rev. J. M. Rice, Charles E. Houck, of York Springs, to Mary G. Cronise, of Biglerville.

Long-Lawrence: April 24, by the Rev. P. P. Hemler, Peter J. Long, of Mount Pleasant township, to Miss Annie Lawrence, of Irishtown.

Local Miscellany: Potatoes are advancing in price.

The slot machines are receiving attention from judges in different parts of the state.

Captain Calvin Gilbert has been awarded, by the War Department, the contract for making the avenues to the markers of the regular troops. The building of the bridges, culverts and fences is also included.

There is a large fire in the mountains.

Six singing classes under the leadership of Prof. J. E. Pitzer, will picnic at Round Top park on Thursday, Ascension Day.

A new wing is to be added to the McClellan House in the autumn. It will contain an office, reading room, dining room and bar room and many additional sleeping rooms.

The local Ladies' Aid society was inspected on Friday evening by Past Division President Mrs. Mohr, of Philadelphia. The rating was 98.

Next year the Semi-Centennial of Gettys Lodge I.O.O.F. of this place, will be fittingly observed.

Supper and Ice Cream Festival to be held in St. James Lutheran parsonage on Friday and Saturday evenings from 5 o'clock p. m.—Committee.

The Springs Hotel: Work in repairing this property is rapidly progressing. Several new buildings have been erected, and the main building is undergoing repairs. The bridge over Woughboy Run has been rebuilt. A hydraulic ram is pumping water from the Spring, on the farm now tenanted by Frank Williams, into a tank at the Hotel. Capt. Gilbert is superintending the work. Col. Yingling's plans of improvement contemplate a thorough modernizing and adornment of the entire premises.

Personal Mention: Miss Galt, of Taneytown, is the guest of Miss Grace Valentine.

J. M. Baker, of Abbotstown, is traveling for the Buckley Reaper Company.

Mrs. Geo. Z. Lower, of Carlisle, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Forney.

The Misses Wittemeyer, of Middleburg, Pa., are visiting Miss Ida Grenoble.

The Rev. Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, is delivering his annual lectures to the students of the Seminary.

Mrs. Caldwell, of Westfield, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Cox. Miss Jennie Roth, of New Oxford, has been visiting Mrs. J. Louis Sowders for the past few days.

To Revise the Lutheran Hymnal: The General Conference of the Lutheran church of the United States has appointed a committee to enrich and revise the literature of the Lutheran hymnal. Rev. H. L. Baugher, of Gettysburg, is a member of the committee.

TYDINGS WINS BY WIDE MARGIN IN MARYLAND

Baltimore, May 2 (AP)—United States Senator Millard E. Tydings, frequent foe of the National administration who in 1938 withstood President Roosevelt's personal attempt to purge him, today was an overwhelming choice of Maryland Democrats for a fourth consecutive term.

Tydings decisively defeated four rivals in yesterday's light primary vote, and apparently will oppose a Baltimore banker, Blanchard Randall, Jr., in the November election.

"A Good Augury"

His closest opponent, Baltimorean Willis R. Jones, former chairman of the State Correction Board, had campaigned on a platform of 100 per cent support of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term, but Tydings said he saw no evidence of anti-administration feeling in his four-to-one victory over Jones.

The Havre de Grace veteran now in his 17th year in the senate told the Associated Press he regarded his victory as "a good augury" for the November election.

Unofficial returns from 1,200 of the state's 1,328 polling places gave Tydings 76,434; Jones 15,871; Charles Baden 2,448; Vincent F. Long 1,201; and Stephen B. Peddicord 1,396.

Voting For Congress

Randall, who had the backing of State GOP Chairman Galen L. Tait and Baltimore's Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, held a commanding lead over Paul Robertson, Baltimore party chairman, on the basis of fairly complete returns. The Republican campaign was purely a factional contest between rival party leaders.

Of the state's six congressmen, the two Republicans—Reps. Daniel E. Wilson and J. Glenn Beall—were nominated without opposition.

One of the four Democrats, Rep. David J. Ward of Salisbury, was defeated by former State Senator Dudley G. Roe, whom he had twice narrowly edged out in previous campaigns.

Discharged Veteran "Eligible" For WAC

Medford, Mass., May 2 (AP)—Francis C. McGerty, 28, has declined with thanks an invitation to join the women's army corps because he felt he could not pass the required "rigid physical examination."

McGerty, with a medical discharge from the coast guard, recently received notification from WAC recruiting officer Lieut. Jane H. Heald that "according to vital statistics records" he was "eligible to join the women's army."

He thanked her for her "broad mindedness" and then explained that evidently his first name had been misspelled "Francis."

Capt, director of the census, Department of Commerce, announced Monday. Sales for the year to date were seven per cent higher than those of the first three months a year ago.

With Democrats On Hand, It's Okay

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—A bill appropriating $30,000 to finance the costs of the annual conference of governors here on May 28 to 31 was being discussed in a house caucus.

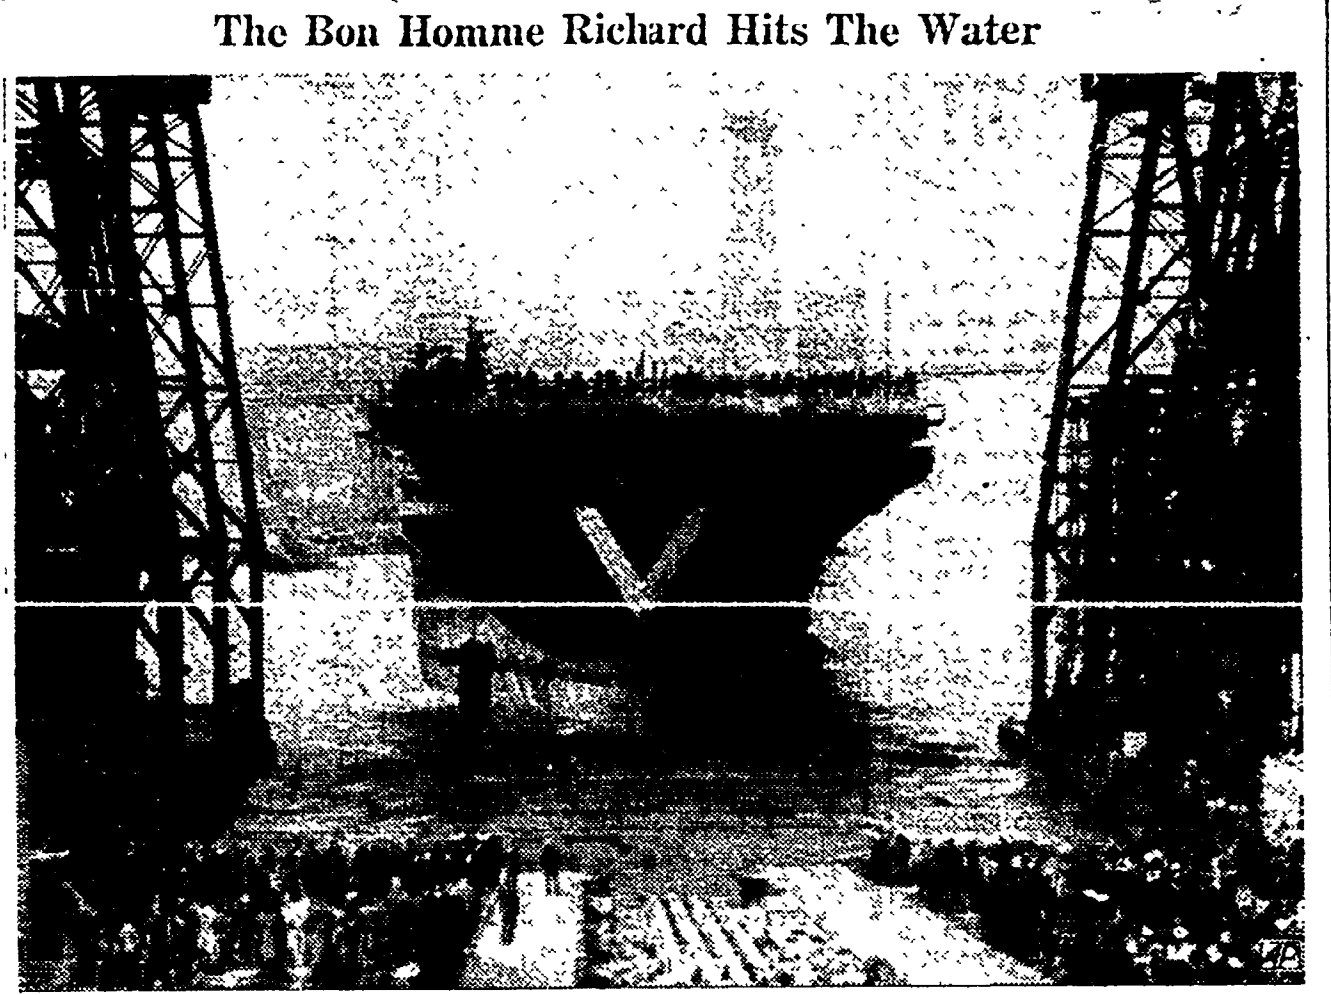

Said one Democratic representative: "Let me get this straight. Will there be Democratic governors at the conference?"

He approved the legislation when told it was a bi-partisan affair.

Angry Bluejays Attack Infant

Yonkers, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—A flock of bluejays, believed to have been angered when Mrs. Elizabeth Fyfe forgot to leave food for them in her yard, attacked her three-month-old daughter, Carol, biting the child on the nose and cheeks as she lay asleep in her carriage.

Attracted by the barking of their dog, tied nearby, the mother ran to the carriage and chased the birds away.

SOLDIER VOTE PLAN SPEEDED AT HARRISBURG

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Pennsylvania's model soldier vote plan—bearing a nearly $1,000,000 price tag—today was on its way toward speedy enactment in the commonwealth's general assembly.

First action came in the House where four bills to strip red tape from Military balloting and appropriations to carry them out received initial approval shortly after the lawmakers convened in special session yesterday.

(One of the five administration bills introduced by the Elections committee in the House was reported out by Adams county's representative, Francis Worley, only member of the Elections committee from this part of the state. He reported Bill No. 4 and asked unanimous consent on first reading. Other members of the committee reported out four other measures under similar procedure.)

Study Appointments

In the Senate, meantime, Republican and Democratic members studied Governor Martin's appointments to a dozen key posts, seven major boards and commissions and hundreds of minor jobs with indication most, if not all, will receive confirmation by the upper house.

House action on the vote bills without a dissenting vote brought from Franklin H. Lichtenwalter (R-Lehigh), House majority leader, the comment "this assures us of a short, snappy session."

Rep. Reuben E. Cohen, Democratic House leader, echoed Lichtenwalter's statement but added a conference will be held on the possibility of approving ballots bearing "check" marks instead of "X's" and those showing erasures.

"It won't slow down passage of the bills," added Cohen.

The soldier vote plan now before the Legislature would:

Eliminate registration as a voting requirement and provide automatic mailing of ballots without previous application.

Authorize local election officials to sit with pay on military registration day—about August 1—to compile lists of qualified absentee voters.

Empower the state's 1,500,000 civilian defense volunteers to make house-to-house canvasses to obtain names and addresses of members of the armed forces and Allied war agencies.

No Action On 18-Year Plan

Extend to about 105 days the time to send and receive military ballots (the present law requires application be made not more than 50 days and not less than 30 days before an election and that ballots be returned within 10 days after an election).

Appropriate $750,000 to carry out the provisions of the soldier vote plan; appropriate $200,000 to pay special sessions costs; and another $30,000 to finance the annual cover-nors conference here May 28-31.

The House also gave first reading to a proposed constitutional amendment giving the Legislature the authority to fix the term of election board members but failed to take a vote on another suggested constitutional change which would lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

ADMINISTRATION GETS TEST IN VOTING TODAY

By JACK BELL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

The Roosevelt administration underwent a test by proxy in the Florida and Alabama Democratic senatorial primaries today. It also figured as a side issue in voting by South Dakota Republicans.

With plenty of personalities involved, Senator Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, carried the New Deal banner into a five-way contest for renomination that had found his chief opponent, county Judge Ollie Edmunds of Jacksonville, hammering away at the administration's domestic policies and at their support by Pepper.

In Alabama, Senator Hill, the Democratic whip and strong supporter of the President, fought out a challenge by James A. Simpson, Birmingham attorney, who urged the voters to reject Hill as a Roosevelt man.

Tydings Wins

A Republicanized version of the administration issue played a part in the South Dakota GOP senatorial primary, where Senator Gurney is seeking reelection with a plea that he was one of the first to recognize the need for preparedness before this country entered the war. His opponent, Lieut. Gov. A. C. Miller, based his appeal on the contention that Gurney followed the President too closely and "adopted much of the New Deal philosophy."

The support-the-President plea apparently had little effect in Maryland, where Senator Tydings won renomination by nearly five to one over Willis R. Jones of Baltimore, his principal Democratic opponent in a five way race.

Tydings' Republican opponent in the November election apparently will be Blanchard Randall, Jr., Baltimore banker, who emerged in front after a nip and tuck struggle with Paul Robertson for the party's senatorial nomination. Robertson, a manufacturer and Baltimore GOP chairman, had contested with Randall on purely local issues.

NO PRISONER LABOR

Sharon, Pa., May 2 (AP)—German war prisoners interned at Camp Reynolds will not be allowed to work on farms this summer, Mercer county Farm Agent C. H. Waha said he had been informed by camp officials. Waha said American soldiers may help with the farm work, as they did last year.

SIAMESE TWINS SINKING WITH LITTLE CHANCE

Phoenixville, Pa., May 2 (AP)—The Siamese twins were still alive today, and still fighting against a death which doctors say is inevitable.

The "cute little blonde girls" were isolated in the Phoenixville hospital nursery. A nurse was with them constantly.

The girls were born early Sunday morning to Mrs. Mary Stierly, 24, whose husband, Harold, a war plant worker, was killed in a motorcycle accident two months ago.

Mrs. Stierly saw them for the first time yesterday. Their crib was wheeled into her room. Their bodies, joined together at the pelvis, were hidden from her by a sheet. She saw only the heads.

"Mrs. Stierly's condition is good, but she is considerably depressed," said Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals, chief of staff at the hospital.

Smaller May Take Sister

"The girls are sinking. Their temperature is higher today, and their pulse rate is too fast. There is no hope."

Every six hours, nurses feed the girls a condensed milk formula. The larger child is fed by bottle the smaller by medicine dropper.

It is the smaller who is expected to take her sister with her in death. Her head is about two-thirds as large as her sister's, her vitality is low, and her circulatory system is bad.

The girls have a single alimentary tract and cannot be separated by surgery. When one dies, Dr. Gotwals says, the other will soon follow.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Wishing to thank you for trouble of sending The Gettysburg Times to me. The APO of my unit has been changed from 634 to 558 in care of Postmaster, New York.

The Gettysburg Times is doing its part in this conflict by more than one method. The greatest part in my idea is the results servicemen overseas received from it. They are able to keep up-to-date as to changes at home by the paper and will not be at too great a loss when returning trying to adjust themselves to the changes. It also informs us of our friends locations and many times this makes it possible to see each other at some central place.

The part you are doing at home is not to be forgotten in keeping every one informed as to how they should and can help. Also informing home folks of what we overseas are trying to accomplish with the backing of people at home.

Sincerely
T-SGT. D. BRINGMAN

"CONSTIPATION GONE—THREW PILLS AWAY"

"Year's trial convinces me All-Bran's a better way"

—Why go on dosing? Read this sincere, unsolicited letter from an ex-constipation sufferer:

"I'm a regular listener to radio programs featuring KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Pleased to say my breakfast every morning for over a year has been a generous bowl of ALL-BRAN. It gives me wonderful relief. I've thrown out all pills and other purgatives. ALL-BRAN's a much gentler way to aid regularity. Others with constipation like mine really should try it." Mrs. J. F. Grubb, 4405 N. Broadway, Fountain City, Knoxville, Tenn.

This seeming magic makes plain common sense. You see, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really get at a common cause of constipation—lack of dietary cellulose elements—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements. They help the friendly flora to fluff up and prepare colonic contents for easy elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't sweep you out. It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food.

If you have constipation of this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real lasting relief. Insist on the genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

An Evening Thought
Common sense is instinct, and enough of it is genius.—H. W. Shaw

Just Folks
STUBBORN MAN

A very stubborn brute is man
And slow to change or better,
Old Adam, father of the clan,
Still forges many a fetter,
For, though in worldly wit he grows,
His passions stay his chiefest foes.

In church or office, field or shop,
Not even for an hour
Will man his selfish purpose drop
Himself to come to power.
When any group holds more than three,
Soon by their quarrels torn 'twill be.

Unlike the creatures of the field,
Whose simple passions lie
In food and mate—all else concealed
From them until they die,
Man adds to want a thousand things,
From which untamed dissension springs.

Jealous, self-centered, prone to jibe
And prey to lust and greed,
All the old sins of Adam's tribe
Are stigmas of our breed.
Made in God's image, stubborn man
Sheds human as if 'twere the plan.

Today's Talk
OUR FEATHERED FRIENDS

Nothing in nature helps more to spiritualize us than the love of our feathered friends, who are not only a material benefit to the earth but a joy to the heart. Acquaint your self with a lover of birds of nature, and you will have tied to a friend indeed.

The return of Springtime, with its glorious beauty of bursting buds and leafing shrubs and trees, would be but a partial celebration without the return of our many feathered friends, whose songs draw aside the very curtain of Heaven.

I am happy to note that there is a lessening of the collecting of birds' eggs by boys, and also of the wanton destruction of our song birds "just for the fun of killing." Scores of our most wonderful birds have vanished into memory, nothing remaining but the story of their having once lived. Certain lovely species of pigeons are now no more, that once were the life of the forest.

I envy the life of Jack Miner, of Kingsville, Ontario, who is the friend and savior of thousands of ducks and geese, and of E. A. McIlhenny of Avery Island, Louisiana, whose sanctuary of birds—especially the Egret—is a thing of wonder and miracle. He lovingly houses in that beautiful flowered park each year over a hundred thousand of these matchless ermine-clothed birds.

Not only are these feathered friends of ours outdoor police officers for our gardens, being sworn enemies of destructive insect life, but they give to man one of his most delicate joys—that of reverence for their and our Creator. Every species of bird is a perfect picture in nature of the very thought of God. Their beautiful plumage, their watchful eyes, and their songs and calls, purify the actual air and contribute greatly to the purging of men's minds of evil toward their fellow men.

We can learn greatly from the intelligence of these feathered friends, as well, which often exceeds that of man. They are happy, courteous workers. They are always companionable when kindly treated and fed. And their gratitude is repaid in the songs that they sing. He who kills a bird kills something precious within himself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Unfolding."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Odd Fellows Celebrate: The seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in this country, was celebrated on Thursday evening by Gettys Lodge in this place. Hart Gilbert, Esq., presided and the opening prayer was made by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Richard. The Rev. Dr. T. C. Billheimer made an excellent address on the principles of the order.

He was followed by the Rev. John Axe, who referred to the glorious past of Odd Fellowship. Robert D. Armor, the only living charter member, was called upon to give his recollections. Mr. Armor related that in the 49 years of its existence, Gettys Lodge has initiated 846 members, has an active list of 171 and has $8,000 invested in good securities. Lodges at York Springs, Bendersville and Fairfield have been organized by the Gettys Lodge.

Remarks were also made by C. J. Setton and Hon. J. U. Neely, of Fairfield, and Geo. M. Diffenderfer, David McConaughy, Esq., Charles W. Holtzworth and Luther Y. Diller. Refreshments were served and music was furnished by the Gettysburg orchestra. Isaac Scott sang several solos.

Wedding Bells: Miss Elizabeth K. Smythe, of Baltimore, and Dr. Charles B. Stouffer, of Gettysburg, were married Wednesday afternoon at the Franklin Street Presbyterian church, Baltimore, by the Rev. Dr. W. U. Murkland. The bride wore a white chrysanthemum with crepe, tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Dr. and Mrs. Stouffer will arrive here on the 7th inst.

Marriages: Houck-Cronise: April 25, at the bride's home in Biglerville, by the Rev. J. M. Rice, Charles E. Houck, of York Springs, to Mary G. Cronise, of Biglerville.

Long-Lawrence: April 24, by the Rev. P. P. Hemler, Peter J. Long, of Mount Pleasant township, to Miss Annie Lawrence, of Irishtown.

Ice Cream, wholesale and retail. Spring water ice will be served daily to patrons in large or small quantities. E. H. Minnigh.

Local Miscellany: Potatoes are advancing in price.

The slot machines are receiving attention from judges in different parts of the state.
"Captain Calvin Gilbert has been awarded, by the War Department, the contract for making the avenues to the markers of the regular troops. The building of the bridges, culverts and fences is also included. There is a large fire in the mountains.

Six singing classes under the leadership of Prof. J. E. Pitzer, will picnic at Round Top park on Thursday, Ascension Day.

A new wing is to be added to the McClellan House in the autumn. It will contain an office, reading room, dining room and bar room and many additional sleeping rooms.
The local Ladies' Aid society will be inspected on Friday evening by Past Division President Mrs. Meir, of Philadelphia. The rating was 98.
Next year the Semi-Centennial of Gettys Lodge L.O.O.F. of this place, will be fittingly observed.

Supper and Ice Cream Festival to be held in St. James Lutheran parsonage on Friday and Saturday evenings from 5 o'clock p. m.—Committee.

The Springs Hotel: Work in repairing this property is rapidly progressing. Several new buildings have been erected, and the main building is undergoing repairs. The bridge over Willowbury Run has been rebuilt. A hydraulic ram is pumping water from the Spring, on the farm now tenanted by Frank Williams, into a tank at the Hotel. Capt. Gilbert is superintending the work. Col. Yingling's plans of improvement contemplate a thorough modernizing and adornment of the entire premises.

Personal Mention: Miss Galt, of Taneytown, is the guest of Miss Grace Valentine.

J. M. Baker, of Abbottstown, is traveling for the Buckley Reaper Company.

Mrs. Geo. Z. Lower, of Carlisle, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Forney.

The Misses Wiltmeyer, of Middeburg, Pa., are visiting Miss Ida Grenoble.

The Rev. Dr. Morris, of Baltimore, is delivering his annual lectures to the students of the Seminary.

Mrs. Caldwell, of Westfield, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Cox. Miss Jennie Roth, of New Oxford, has been visiting Mrs. J. Louis Sowter for the past few days.

To Revise the Lutheran Hymnal: The General Conference of the Lutheran church of the United States has appointed a committee to enrich and revise the literature of the Lutheran hymnal. Rev. H. L. Baugher, of Gettysburg, is a member of the committee.

TYDINGS WINS BY WIDE MARGIN IN MARYLAND

Baltimore, May 2 (AP)—United States Senator Millard E. Tydings, frequent foe of the National administration who in 1938 withstood President Roosevelt's personal attempt to purge him, today was an overwhelming choice of Maryland Democrats for a fourth consecutive term.

Tydings decisively defeated four rivals in yesterday's light primary vote, and apparently will oppose a Baltimore banker, Blanchard Randall, Jr., in the November election.

"A Good Augury"

His closest opponent, Baltimorean Willis R. Jones, former chairman of the State Correction Board, had campaigned on a platform of 100 per cent support of Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term, but Tydings said he saw no evidence of anti-administration feeling in his four-to-one victory over Jones.

The Havre de Grace veteran now in his 17th year in the senate told the Associated Press he regarded his victory as "a good augury" for the November election.

Unofficial returns from 1,200 of the state's 1,328 polling places gave Tydings 76,434; Jones 15,871; Charles Baden 2,448; Vincent F. Long 1,201; and Stephen B. Peddicord 1,396.

Voting For Congress

Randall, who had the backing of State GOP Chairman Galen L. Tait and Baltimore's Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, held a commanding lead over Paul Robertson, Baltimore party chairman, on the basis of fairly complete returns. The Republican campaign was purely a factional contest between rival party leaders.

Of the state's six congressmen, the two Republicans—Reps. Daniel Ellison and J. Glenn Beall—were nominated without opposition.

One of the four Democrats, Rep. David J. Ward of Salisbury, was defeated by former State Senator Dudley G. Roe, whom he had twice narrowly edged out in previous campaigns.

Discharged Veteran "Eligible" For WAC

Medford, Mass., May 2 (AP)—Francis C. McGerity, 28, has declined with thanks an invitation to join the women's army corps because he felt he could not pass the required "rigid physical examination."

McGerity, with a medical discharge from the coast guard, recently received notification from WAC recruiting officer Lieut. Jane H. Heald that "according to vital statistics records" he was "eligible to join the women's army."

He thanked her for her "broad mindedness" and then explained that evidently his first name had been misspelled "Frances."

SOLDIER VOTE PLAN SPEEDED AT HARRISBURG

By RALPH E. WALLIS
Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—Pennsylvania's model soldier vote plan—bearing a nearly $1,000,000 price tag—today was on its way toward speedy enactment in the commonwealth's general assembly.

First action came in the House where four bills to strip red tape from Military balloting and appropriations to carry them out received initial approval shortly after the lawmakers convened in special session yesterday.

(One of the five administration bills introduced by the Elections committee in the House was reported out by Adams county's representative, Francis Worley, only member of the Elections committee from this part of the state. He reported Bill No. 4 and asked unanimous consent on first reading. Other members of the committee reported out four other measures under similar procedure.)

Study Appointments
In the Senate, meantime, Republican and Democratic members studied Governor Martin's appointments to a dozen key posts, seven major boards and commissions and hundreds of minor jobs with indication most, if not all, will receive confirmation by the upper house.

House action on the vote bills without a dissenting vote brought from Franklin H. Lichtenwalter (R-Lehigh), House majority leader, the comment "this assures us of a short, snappy session."

Rep. Reuben E. Cohen, Democratic House leader, echoed Lichtenwalter's statement but added a conference will be held on the possibility of approving ballots bearing "check" marks instead of "X's" and those showing erasures.

"It won't slow down passage of the bills," added Cohen.

The soldier vote plan now before the Legislature would:

Eliminate registration as a voting requirement and provide automatic mailing of ballots without previous application.

Authorize local election officials to sit with pay on military registration day—about August 1—to compile lists of qualified absentee voters.

Empower the state's 1,500,000 civilian defense volunteers to make house-to-house canvasses to obtain names and addresses of members of the armed forces and Allied war agencies.

No Action On 18-Year Plan
Extend to about 105 days the time to send and receive military ballots (the present law requires application be made not more than 50 days and not less than 30 days before an election and that ballots be returned within 10 days after an election).

Appropriate $750,000 to carry out the provisions of the soldier vote plan; appropriate $200,000 to pay special sessions costs; and another $30,000 to finance the annual governors conference here May 28-31.

The House also gave first reading to a proposed constitutional amendment giving the Legislature the authority to fix the term of election board members but failed to take a vote on another suggested constitutional change which would lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

With Democrats On Hand, It's Okay

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP)—A bill appropriating $30,000 to finance the costs of the annual conference of governors here on May 28 to 31 was being discussed in a house caucus.

Said one Democratic representative: "Let me get this straight. Will there be Democratic governors at the conference?"

He approved the legislation when told it was a bi-partisan affair.

ADMINISTRATION GETS TEST IN VOTING TODAY

By JACK BELL

(Associated Press Staff Writer)
The Roosevelt administration underwent a test by proxy in the Florida and Alabama Democratic senatorial primaries today. It also figured as a side issue in voting by South Dakota Republicans.

With plenty of personalities involved, Senator Claude Pepper, Florida Democrat, carried the New Deal banner into a five-way contest forrenomination that had found his chief opponent, county Judge Ollie Edmunds of Jacksonville, hammering away at the administration's domestic policies and at their support by Pepper.

In Alabama, Senator Hill, the Democratic whip and strong supporter of the President, fought out a challenge by James A. Simpson, Birmingham attorney, who urged the voters to reject Hill as a Roosevelt man.

Tydings Wins
A Republicanized version of the administration issue played a part in the South Dakota GOP senatorial primary, where Senator Gurney is seeking reelection with a plea that he was one of the first to recognize the need for preparedness before this country entered the war.

His opponent, Lieut. Gov. A. C. Miller, based his appeal on the contention that Gurney followed the President too closely and "adopted much of the New Deal philosophy."

The support-the-President plea apparently had little effect in Maryland, where Senator Tydings won renomination by nearly five to one over Willis R. Jones of Baltimore, his principal Democratic opponent in a five way race.

Tyding's Republican opponent in the November election apparently will be Blanchard Randall, Jr., Baltimore banker, who emerged in front after a nip and tuck struggle with Paul Robertson for the party's senatorial nomination. Robertson, a manufacturer and Baltimore GOP chairman, had contested with Randall on purely local issues.

NO PRISONER LABOR
Sharon, Pa., May 2 (AP)—German war prisoners interned at Camp Reynolds will not be allowed to work on farms this summer, Mercer county Farm Agent C. H. Waha said he had been informed by camp officials. Waha said American soldiers may help with the farm work, as they did last year.

SIAMESE TWINS SINKING WITH LITTLE CHANCE

Phoenixville, Pa., May 2 (AP)—The Siery Siamese twins were still alive today, and still fighting against a death which doctors say is inevitable.

The "cute little blonde girls" were isolated in the Phoenixville hospital nursery. A nurse was with them constantly.

The girls were born early Sunday morning to Mrs. Mary Siery, 24, whose husband, Harold, a war plant worker, was killed in a motorcycle accident two months ago.

Mrs. Siery said them for the first time yesterday. Their crib was wheeled into her room. Their bodies, joined together at the pelvis, were hidden from her by a sheet. She saw only the heads.

"Mrs. Siery's condition is good, but she is considerably depressed," said Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals, chief of staff at the hospital.

Smaller May Take Sister
"The girls are sinking. Their temperature is higher today, and their pulse rate is too fast. There is no hope."

Every six hours, nurses feed the girls a condensed milk formula. The larger child is fed by bottle the smaller by medicine dropper.
It is the smaller who is expected to take her sister with her in death. Her head is about two-thirds as large as her sister's, her vitality is low, and her circulatory system is bad.

The girls have a single alimentary tract and cannot be separated by surgery. When one dies, Dr. Gotwals says, the other will soon follow.

Angry Bluejays Attack Infant

Yonkers, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—A flock of bluejays, believed to have been angered when Mrs. Elizabeth Eyfe forgot to leave food for them in her yard, attacked her three-month-old daughter, Carol, biting the child on the nose and cheeks as she lay asleep in her carriage.

Attracted by the barking of their dog, tied nearby, the mother ran to the carriage and chased the birds away.

He has received a nominating petition from England bearing the lone signature of Lt. Lauro Apodaca, of Valdez' home county.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
Wishing to thank you for trouble of sending The Gettysburg Times to me. The APO of my unit has been changed from 634 to 558 in care of Postmaster, New York.

The Gettysburg Times is doing its part in this conflict by more than one method. The greatest part in my idea is the results servicemen overseas received from it. They are able to keep up-to-date as to changes at home by the paper and will not be at too great a loss when returning trying to adjust themselves to the changes. It also informs us of our friends locations and many times this makes it possible to see each other at some central place.

The part you are doing at home is not to be forgotten in keeping every one informed as to how they should and can help. Also informing home folks of what we overseas are trying to accomplish with the backing of people at home.

Sincerely
T-SGT. D. BRINGMAN

Swiss Bury American Fliers With Military Honors

Twelve coffins draped with the Stars and Stripes rest in a cemetery at Munsingen, Switzerland, during the burial with full military honors of American fliers killed in action or crashes. A theological student, Tracy Strong, Jr., a native of Seattle and former resident of New York, stands in center to read invocation. Interned American aviators stand at left. In rear is a Swiss rifle platoon with some Swiss civilian onlookers. This picture was taken by one of the U. S. internees, Lt. Thomas Carver of Alameda, Calif., and radioed from Bern to New York.

BRING DURATION FARMERS TO PA.

State College, Pa., May (AP) — Two hundred Newfoundland men and women will be imported into Pennsylvania as "duration farmers" to help alleviate the farm labor shortage, the Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Extension Service announced today.

J. E. McCord, State supervisor of the service's emergency farm labor program, said the first hundred—60 men and 40 women — are expected this week with the remainder scheduled to be brought in at the end of May.

The workers will receive a 10-day orientation course at Pennsylvania State college after which they will be assigned to dairy farms. McCord added. They will be placed as groups on farms within a few miles of each other so that they "may spend their week-ends together."

McCord explained a majority of the workers are fishermen in Newfoundland and the women are wives of the men in the group. The course at Penn State will be an intensive one designed to acquaint them with modern farm methods as well as schooling them in general subjects.

"The women," he said, "will also be trained in the preparation of American foods, and in marketing under the ration system."

State Senate Lauds Exploits Of Kelly

Harrisburg, May 2 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Senate commends the name of Technical Sergeant Charles E. (Commando) Kelly "to live forever among the heroes whose feats of daring have become legends of American history."

A resolution adopted unanimously and sent to the House for concurrence expressed admiration for the Pittsburgher who killed 40 Nazis in Italy to win the Congressional medal of honor.

Kelly at Salerno "for 48 hours fought an entire war of his own, single-handed against a host of well-armed and well-trained Nazi soldiers," declared the resolution introduced yesterday by Senator B. B. McGinnis (D-Allegheny).

Pennsylvanians Fight Canal Plan

Washington, May 2 (AP)—Pennsylvania interests turned their verbal guns today on proposed canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers in an effort to beat down arguments of Ohio spokesmen that the project was essential to the industrial and economic development of the Mahoning valley.

The canal, recommended by the Army engineers as a first step toward construction of an Ohio river-lake Erie waterway, would link the Youngstown steel district with the Ohio and Mississippi rivers systems. The estimated cost is $38,500,000.

Four Ohio members of Congress, Senators Burton and Taft and Representatives Bender and Kirwan, urged a senate commerce subcommittee to add the Beaver-Mahoning canal to a house-approved $400,000,000 postwar rivers and harbors bill.

The nation's automobile plants today are turning out war material at an annual rate in excess of $10,500,000,000.
